McCarthy Raps Probers

Charges Amerasia Case Being Dropped

WASHINGTON, May 18—Sen. McCarthy (R) Wis., charged today that Senate loyalty investigators plan to drop their announced probe of the Amerasia case. This was promptly denied.

Counsel for the Tydings committee investigating McCarthy's charges of Communism in the state department told reporters that the Amerasia case now is "taking most of our attention."

The case involved stolen top secret state department documents recovered from the magazine Amerasia.

The Senate inquiry also produced another exchange between the Wisconsin Republican and Edward P. Morgan, chief counsel for the committee.

Morgan wrote McCarthy asking him for "any evidence or indication" to support his charge that the state department loyalty files have been "tampered with or altered in any way." McCarthy has said the files have been "raped," rifled, "denuded" and tampered with.

McCarthy replied that Morgan and his aides should be permitted to inspect the files, review of which is now limited to the five committeemen.

Crime Probers Plan Action

Subpoenas To Fly In Short Time

WASHINGTON, May 18—Senate crime hunters met today to decide what segment of organized crime they will probe first.

The special investigating committee headed by Sen. Kefauver (D) Tenn., will plan its course of action and decide where to aim its first subpoenas.

Chief Counsel Rudolph Halley said those subpoenas "will begin flying within a few days" once the committee chooses its target. He said that announcement may follow today's closed session.

Halley said offers of cooperation and assistance already have come from California and Florida authorities and from Albert F. Hillix, president of the Kansas City, Mo., police board. Hillix heads a new board appointed after a federal grand jury reported that the city is the center

Lehman Urges Support Of Social, Economic Program

CLEVELAND, May 18—U. S. Sen. Herbert H. Lehman of New York urged support today of a broad social and economic program along the lines of President Truman's Fair Deal and warned of the dangers of increased unemployment.

In an address to the 17th Biennial Convention in Cleveland of the CIO-Amalgamated Clothing Workers, Lehman told the 1,500 delegates there are 10 pending administration proposals which "must" be adopted.

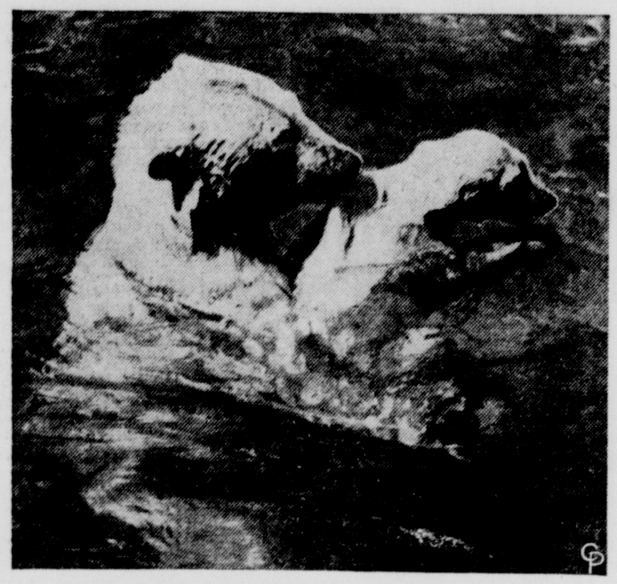

A new tax structure, expanded Social Security, support of small business, reserve public works projects, waterpower development, farm aid, housing and economy were advocated by Lehman.

He also called for support of President Truman's Point Four program, which provides for financial and technical aid to backward countries. The senator continued:

"This is my program not only for full employment and for the control of unemployment, but for a dynamic future for America."

Lehman said rising unemployment is due "to the fact that

Lie Instructs UN Aides To Arrange Conference

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., May 18—Secretary General Trygve Lie instructed his United Nations headquarters aides today to arrange a meeting for him during the first week of June with President Truman and Dean Acheson for discussion of the Cold War and Premier Stalin's views on the East-West dispute.

The UN chief said he planned to leave Moscow for Paris by plane early Thursday evening and busy himself over the weekend conferring with French Premier Bidault and Foreign Minister Schuman on the outcome of his Kremlin talks.

Lie will proceed to London from Paris for similar conferences with Prime Minister Attlee and Foreign Secretary Bevin. He has changed original plans of his peace mission and will not hurry to confront the Western Big Three foreign ministers and eight other Atlantic Pact diplomats before they leave the British capital.

According to the impression given in an exchange of communications with Lake Success headquarters, Lie appears to feel that nothing constructive can be gained by "high pressuring" the Western Powers. He feels his "positive" Kremlin talks can be nursed along to bear fruit in the coming months if handled cautiously and through conferences with individual government leaders.

CONSEQUENTLY he instructed Lake Success aides also to cancel air reservations to New York for this weekend and to book him on the Queen Elizabeth sailing from Southampton May 25. This will bring him to New York at the end of the month.

From the few hints given Lake Success on the nature of his session with Stalin, it is fairly evident that the Soviet leader agreed "in principle" to a special foreign ministers' gathering of the security council for easing Cold War tension.

At the same time, the UN chief feels that the crucial decision in reactivating UN as a meeting ground for negotiation and conciliation—and particularly for breaking the deadlock on China before the September assembly convenes—depends primarily on the outcome of the June meeting with President Truman and Acheson.

County Youngsters Enter Five Poems To Be Judged

Five poems composed by Pickaway County youngsters are to be judged in Columbus for appearance next Fall in the Ohio Poetry Anthology.

Charles Will, chairman of the county poetry committee, said that a state board of judges will make final selections.

On the local level, county entries were judged by Papyrus Club, a Circleville literary group.

Winners selected were as follows:

Group I (Grades 1 through 3): "A Little Boy That Took My Wagon Away," by James Rossiter, Grade 3, Circleville Franklin Street School; "The Easter Bunny," by Carolyn Londrum, Grade 3, Circleville High Street school; and "The Easter Bunny," by Hazel Smith, Grade 3, Franklin Street school.

Highway Boss Orders Refund

COLUMBUS, May 18 — State Highway Director T. J. Kauer said today he had ordered a $3,000 surplus from the department's division 12 April dance returned to employes who attended.

Kauer's statement came in answer to charges that a political shakedown had been operated in connection with sale of the dance tickets. Kauer said he was not convinced this actually took place.

He explained that the dance committee alloted 15 or more tickets to all employes in the Cleveland division and that some workers apparently assumed they were to be held liable for the sale of all of the ducats.

Kauer said a department auditor from Delaware checked the records of the dance and determined the amount of surplus.

Atlantic Pact Powers Announce New Course

LONDON, May 18 — Foreign ministers of the twelve North Atlantic Defense Pact powers announced today adoption of a dynamic course to activate and finance Western Europe's preparedness against aggression.

A communique issued at conclusion of a four-day conference among the ministers stressed a decision to integrate defense plans with the organization for European economic cooperation to ensure their economic solidity.

The communique was issued in the name of the Big Three and will be followed by another bearing the name of all 12 governments describing plans for a permanent organization headed by an expert coordinator.

It said:

"In talks last week, the foreign ministers of France, the United Kingdom and the United States considered how the countries of Western Europe, the United Kingdom and the United States might improve cooperation on economic problems which will require adjustment by them in the period immediately ahead.

"EMPHASIS IN their discussions was on a positive course of action which might need be taken.

"Secretary of State Acheson emphasized the great value of existing relationships between the OEEC and the United States and expressed belief it would be helpful to broaden this relationship to provide for regular discussion and consideration of problems requiring cooperative action in the coming period.

"Mr. Acheson pointed out that while the European recovery program terminates in 1952, interest of the United States in Europe will necessarily continue and study of the problems is now going forward actively in the United States on the highest governmental level."

Reports current in diplomatic circles said the Big Three ministers plan to announce their intention to transfer Western occupational control of Austria from military authority to civilian control effective in June.

At the same time the Big Three plan to reduce the amount of American, British and French troops in the country.

It is reported that the ministers may call Russia's bluff on whether she really wishes to conclude an Austrian peace treaty by announcing their willingness to meet Soviet claims on Austria totalling 200 million dollars.

Erickson Linked With Country's Top Mobsters

NEW YORK, May 18—Gambler Frank Erickson was linked directly today with the country's top mobsters.

His association in the operation of many fashionable Florida gambling spots was revealed in documents made public in general sessions court.

The link was made known through disclosure of contents of Erickson's own records which were taken into court following their seizure by District Attorney Frank Hogan at Bookmaker Erickson's plush Park Avenue headquarters on May 2.

The papers showed that Erickson shared big profits with reputed big-time underworld characters such as Jack and Meyer Lansky, Joe Adonis, Vincent Alo, alias "Jimmy Blue Eyes;" and persons described by the district attorney as members of the notorious Purple gang of Detroit.

Revelations concerning the heretofore carefully-guarded inner workings of the Erickson interests showed how the vast gambling empire was able to take a $685,538 profit from one Florida establishment alone.

Attendant Fired For Beating

COLUMBUS, May 18 — Tiffin State Hospital Attendant David D. Harris of Bascom was fired today for beating a patient confined in a strait-jacket.

Hospital Superintendent Milton P. Smith, who notified the Civil Service Commission of the discharge, effective tomorrow, listed the official charge as "unnecessary abuse to a patient."

Dr. Smith's report said Harris "wilfully struck a patient hard blows in the chest although he was in restraint and helpless at the time."

A physical examination of the patient disclosed a large blood clot as well as bruises over the chest and arms.

Witnesses denied Harris' story that the patient struck his head on a door jamb.

Parkersburg Cops Seize Hartman

Questioned On Extradition

BRYAN, May 18 — Williams County Sheriff Norman A. Barnes was notified today that 18-year-old Jack G. Hartman has been picked up in Parkersburg, W. Va.

The notification came from Sergeant Rardon of the Parkersburg police. Hartman is wanted in connection with the rifle slaying of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Fisher, the night of May 5.

Sheriff Barnes said he had no additional information except that Hartman is being questioned regarding a statement and waiving of extradition.

A pickup warrant for Hartman was filed in Williams County courts May 10 and a five state search for the youth launched.

The bodies of Mr. and Mrs Fisher were found in a bedroom at their home at Melbern. Hartman, who was married only three days prior to the slaying, fled his Bryan home shortly after a sheriff's deputy found his 22-caliber rifle in a routine check.

Sheriff Barnes announced that tests proved "almost conclusively" that the rifle was used in the double murder. Barnes said he had learned that Hartman had purchased a revolver from a Bryan woman shortly after the slaying.

Motive for the slaying has not been established but a wallet believed to contain about $300 was missing from the Fisher home. However, two other purses with a total of $150 were not touched.

Hartman's young bride, Mrs. Dolores Swank Hartman, 16, of near Montpelier, reportedly admitted under questioning that her husband was missing about an hour the night of the murders.

Col. Zarhan Rushby Bey, chief of the political police in Alexandria, denied that an attempt actually was made on Simeon's life.

Argentina Treaty To Follow U.S. Loan

WASHINGTON, May 18 — A United States credit of $125 million to Argentina is expected today to be followed by a new treaty of friendship, commerce and navigation between the two nations.

The loan, long anticipated, was announced by the export-import bank. It was not made directly to the government.

Instead the bulk of the credit was made to Argentine banks who will repay defaulted dollar loans from U. S. financial institutions. These loans total 105 millions.

The remainder will be used partly to finance the purchase of farm machinery to improve the nation's agricultural production.

Thus far there has been no immediate indication of what the U. S. might gain by the new transaction, but it was understood that the new treaty will soon be signed.

This treaty, modernizing international relations, will follow the lines of those signed with Italy and Uruguay.

It contains a clause providing for the prompt and adequate payment to U. S. investors for property which may be nationalized through government decree, defending American investments from discriminatory taxes and from special labor laws.

Many Latin-American countries have balked at these provisions which have been long-standing U. S. policy.

Another Rail Strike Threat Is Heard

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 18—The nation, just recovering from a paralyzing strike against five major railroads, was threatened with another one today by the switchmen on ten midwestern and western lines set for next Tuesday.

The strike is scheduled for 6 a. m. local time across the country. The action was announced by Arthur J. Glover, president of the Switchmen's Union of North America (AFL). He said that 6,000 switchmen will be pulled out by the strike action.

Glover said the union is demanding "48 hours pay for a 40-hour work week."

He said that the railroad managements have been considering the union's contract demands for more than nine months. He continued:

"Most of American industry has had a basic 40-hour work week for years. That's all we want."

Congress May Quit ITO Effort

Committee Lacks Enthusiasm

WASHINGTON, May 18 — The 81st Congress is expected today to abandon all efforts to ratify the International Trade Organization, with its vast potential effect on United States industry and foreign trade.

The International Trade Organization is a global body set up to regulate trade and commerce throughout the world. It could gain power, through American adherence, to ban sale of United States goods in any part of the world.

Senate Foreign Relations Chairman Connally (D) Tex., said his committee, which would handle the controversial question, "is not enthusiastic about action at this session."

The committee discussed taking up the trade issue but decided informally that it would be impossible to hold hearings on such an important new program while five members of the Tydings subcommittee are occupied with the McCarthy charges of Communism in the state department.

Republicans in both houses are overwhelmingly opposed to the world trade organization. Even some ardent GOP supporters of bi-partisan foreign policy feel it would be better to wait until next year to pass on the ITO.

Holdup Men Are Caught

STEUBENVILLE, May 18—Two bandits who held up a bank near Steubenville were captured 45 minutes later today in New Somerset.

Police identified the pair as Nick M. A. Vromatis, 22, of Steubenville and Frank Hilldore, 25, formerly of Steubenville.

The bandits were unable to evade a blockade thrown around the area after the robbery of the Bergholz State bank in which an estimated $1,000 was taken. Police recovered the money from the car.

Revenue Sources Needed

Proposal Would Exempt Evaders

WASHINGTON, May 18 — A general amnesty for income tax evaders was proposed today as a means of raising hundreds of millions of dollars in new revenue.

The amnesty was proposed by Rep. Forand (D) R. I., as the House Ways and Means Committee wrestled with the problem of finding new sources of revenue to offset the one billion 79 million dollars it has cut in excise taxes.

Forand's proposal would exempt from criminal penalties tax evaders who voluntarily came forward and agreed to pay their back and current taxes.

They would be safe from criminal prosecution, but would be required to pay the civil penalties—an additional 50 percent of the taxes owed—plus six percent interest on back taxes.

Forand stated in an interview that he will ask the Ways and Means Committee, of which he is a leading member, to adopt the proposal as part of the new revenue bill it is now drawing up.

If Forand's proposal becomes law, the Internal Revenue Bureau will issue a general invitation to tax evaders to come forward voluntarily and pay what they owe without fear of jail sentences. Forand stated:

"I AM CONVINCED that a move of this kind would bring in hundreds of millions of dollars in back taxes.

"There are probably thousands in the country who have not paid taxes whose consciences bother them or who otherwise would like to clear themselves who are willing to pay both taxes and penalties, but are fearful of criminal prosecution if they do so.

"These people should be encouraged to step forward and pay their taxes. Otherwise, the great number will probably never pay taxes because the internal revenue bureau is limited to making spot checks."

Forand pointed out that with more than 60 million taxpayers in the country it was patently impossible for the Internal Revenue Bureau to check everyone's income to determine whether all paid their taxes.

The law provides stiff penalties for persons who wilfully evade payment of income taxes. They range up to five years imprisonment and $10,000 fine, together with the costs of prosecution.

One member from each of Circleville's social and service clubs has been invited to form a committee to investigate the possibility of constructing a swimming pool here.

The invitation was issued Wednesday during a public meeting of the Chamber of Commerce swimming pool committee in Pickaway County Courthouse.

Boyd Stout, chairman of the chamber board, said that each of the city's service and social clubs will be invited to choose one member for the central investigating committee.

The invitation was forthcoming following a number of comments concerning the problems of constructing a pool in Circleville.

Some of the problems posed during the session were:

Does the public want a swimming pool badly enough to pay for it?

What will the pool cost?

Should a bond issue be put be-

Passion Play Given In Bavarian Village

OBERAMMERGAU, Germany, May 18—The passion of Christ was re-enacted today in the Bavarian village of Oberammergau for the first time in 16 years.

High-ranking Allied and German officials were in the audience of 5,000 as the curtain went up under a cloudy sky on the world's most famous religious spectacle — the passion play for which Oberammergau is famed.

In attendance at the special preview staged for officials of the Western Occupation forces were U. S. High Commissioner John J. McCloy, British High Commissioner Sir Brian Robertson, practically all the chiefs of the foreign missions in Germany and ten U. S. generals.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and West German President Theodore Heuss also were present, as were high clergymen and numerous newsmen and photographers.

Police were sore beset in trying to check the flood of cars, buses and trains which rolled into the tiny village with people who wanted to watch the performance given by some 1,500 devout Catholic residents.

The presentation once more fulfilled the vow made in 1633 after the village was delivered from the Black Death. The last great survival of the Middle-Ages miracle plays, it has been performed each decade with only three interruptions in 316 years.

With the exception of the tercentennary performance in 1934, the passion play was not presented during the Nazi regime.

Some 6,000 visitors have jammed the tiny hamlet whose long-haired, bearded men and serene-faced women give it a truly Biblical atmosphere of a day long past.

Bookings indicate that during its Summer run 21,000 visitors will come from the United States to see the play.

Revenue Sources Needed

Proposal Would Exempt Evaders

WASHINGTON, May 18 — A general amnesty for income tax evaders was proposed today as a means of raising hundreds of millions of dollars in new revenue.

The amnesty was proposed by Rep. Forand (D) R. I., as the House Ways and Means Committee wrestled with the problem of finding new sources of revenue to offset the one billion 79 million dollars it has cut in excise taxes.

Forand's proposal would exempt from criminal penalties tax evaders who voluntarily came forward and agreed to pay their back and current taxes.

They would be safe from criminal prosecution, but would be required to pay the civil penalties—an additional 50 percent of the taxes owed—plus six percent interest on back taxes.

Forand stated in an interview that he will ask the Ways and Means Committee, of which he is a leading member, to adopt the proposal as part of the new revenue bill it is now drawing up.

If Forand's proposal becomes law, the Internal Revenue Bureau will issue a general invitation to tax evaders to come forward voluntarily and pay what they owe without fear of jail sentences. Forand stated:

"I AM CONVINCED that a move of this kind would bring in hundreds of millions of dollars in back taxes.

"There are probably thousands in the country who have not paid taxes whose consciences bother them or who otherwise would like to clear themselves who are willing to pay both taxes and penalties, but are fearful of criminal prosecution if they do so.

"These people should be encouraged to step forward and pay their taxes. Otherwise, the great number will probably never pay taxes because the internal revenue bureau is limited to making spot checks."

Forand pointed out that with more than 60 million taxpayers in the country it was patently impossible for the Internal Revenue Bureau to check everyone's income to determine whether all paid their taxes.

The law provides stiff penalties for persons who wilfully evade payment of income taxes. They range up to five years imprisonment and $10,000 fine, together with the costs of prosecution.

SO FAR THE committee has approved a maximum of 300 million dollars in new revenue to offset the one billion 79 mil-

Congress May Quit ITO Effort

Committee Lacks Enthusiasm

WASHINGTON, May 18 — The 81st Congress is expected today to abandon all efforts to ratify the International Trade Organization, with its vast potential effect on United States industry and foreign trade.

The International Trade Organization is a global body set up to regulate trade and commerce throughout the world. It could gain power, through American adherence, to ban sale of United States goods in any part of the world.

Senate Foreign Relations Chairman Connally (D) Tex., said his committee, which would handle the controversial question, "is not enthusiastic about action at this session."

The committee discussed taking up the trade issue but decided informally that it would be impossible to hold hearings on such an important new program while five members of the Tydings subcommittee are occupied with the McCarthy charges of Communism in the state department.

Republicans in both houses are overwhelmingly opposed to the world trade organization. Even some ardent GOP supporters of bi-partisan foreign policy feel it would be better to wait until next year to pass on the ITO.

Holdup Men Are Caught

STEUBENVILLE, May 18—Two bandits who held up a bank near Steubenville were captured 45 minutes later today in New Somerset.

Police identified the pair as Nick M. A. Vromatis, 22, of Steubenville and Frank Hilldore, 25, formerly of Steubenville.

The bandits were unable to evade a blockade thrown around the area after the robbery of the Bergholz State bank in which an estimated $1,000 was taken. Police recovered the money from the car.

Clubs Asked To Set Up Pool Committee

One member from each of Circleville's social and service clubs has been invited to form a committee to investigate the possibility of constructing a swimming pool here.

The invitation was issued Wednesday during a public meeting of the Chamber of Commerce swimming pool committee in Pickaway County Courthouse.

Boyd Stout, chairman of the chamber board, said that each of the city's service and social clubs will be invited to choose one member for the central investigating committee.

The invitation was forthcoming following a number of comments concerning the problems of constructing a pool in Circleville.

Some of the problems posed during the session were:

Does the public want a swimming pool badly enough to pay for it?

What will the pool cost?

Should a bond issue be put be-

Passion Play Given In Bavarian Village

OBERAMMERGAU, Germany, May 18—The passion of Christ was re-enacted today in the Bavarian village of Oberammergau for the first time in 16 years.

High-ranking Allied and German officials were in the audience of 5,000 as the curtain went up under a cloudy sky on the world's most famous religious spectacle — the passion play for which Oberammergau is famed.

In attendance at the special preview staged for officials of the Western Occupation forces were U. S. High Commissioner John J. McCloy, British High Commissioner Sir Brian Robertson, practically all the chiefs of the foreign missions in Germany and ten U. S. generals.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and West German President Theodore Heuss also were present, as were high clergymen and numerous newsmen and photographers.

Police were sore beset in trying to check the flood of cars, buses and trains which rolled into the tiny village with people who wanted to watch the performance given by some 1,500 devout Catholic residents.

The presentation once more fulfilled the vow made in 1633 after the village was delivered from the Black Death. The last great survival of the Middle-Ages miracle plays, it has been performed each decade with only three interruptions in 316 years.

With the exception of the tercentennary performance in 1934, the passion play was not presented during the Nazi regime.

Some 6,000 visitors have jammed the tiny hamlet whose long-haired, bearded men and serene-faced women give it a truly Biblical atmosphere of a day long past.

Bookings indicate that during its Summer run 21,000 visitors will come from the United States to see the play.

Budget Manager Hits Jackpot

AKRON, May 18—The Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company in Akron doesn't sponsor a radio quiz program, but T. G. While, budget sales manager, hit the $3,000 "jackpot" just the same.

While submitted a pair of ideas to improve company sales and the suggestion committee judged each to be worth $1,500, the maximum for a single award.

The $3,000 check was the highest payment made by the company for employe suggestions.

Man Escapes Injury Wednesday When Car Flips

A 21-year-old Southern Ohio man luckily escaped injury Wednesday when his auto overturned twice on the highway and landed in a ditch.

Deputy Walter Richards said Richard McGowan of Oak Hill Route 1 attempted to pass a tandem trailer truck on Route 23 just south of South Bloomfield at about 6:10 p. m. Wednesday.

The deputy said that as the Oak Hill man pulled out to pass the truck, the truck driver, Wayne Wells, 28, of Lucasville Route 4, also pulled out to pass a third vehicle.

McGowan's car was crowded from the road, the deputy said, and overturned twice before clipping off John Dowler's mailbox and landing in the left ditch.

The trucker, unaware of the accident, was stopped later in Circleville by Sheriff Charles Radcliff. The man said that he probably failed to see the McGowan car because of the tandem trailers.

"McGowan's car wasn't what you would call demolished," Richards described, "It was just banged up all over."

McGowan emerged from the wreckage without injury, Richards added.

Commissioners Postpone Ditch Cleaning Project

Pickaway County commissioners have postponed indefinitely any decision on the Yellowbud Creek ditch-cleaning project.

In a hearing Tuesday, commissioners were advised that because of legal technicalities no decision could be immediately reached.

The ditch project would have involved about three miles of two branches of the creek and would have been a major undertaking for engineers.

As a result, commissioners are standing by and courthouse attaches said one of the following could happen:

1. The issue could die for lack of action.

2. An entire new petition could be instigated, hearing held again and decision then reached.

3. Favorable action on the petition by commissioners could be answered by appeal to common pleas court. Same is true on unfavorable action if original petitioner wants to press the matter.

4. Either side may protest if and when individual cost estimates are leveled by commissioners.

5. The whole thing could be settled on a private level by the landowners involved.

DEATHS and Funerals

MRS. BURR H. RADER

Mrs. Carey Head Rader, 80, of Circleville Route 1 died in her home at 5 a. m. Thursday after an illness of eight years.

A native of Pike County, she was a daughter of George and Catherine Head. She had lived in Pickaway County 60 years.

In 1893, she was married to the late Burr H. Rader.

Mrs. Rader is survived by a son, Glenn D. Rader of Ashville; four daughters, Mrs. Kenneth Shepler of the home, Mrs. Thomas Wright of Tucson, Ariz., Mrs. Lester Oliphant of Detroit and Mrs. Roy Breese of Scarsdale, N. Y.; two brothers, Ralph D. Head of Circleville and Charles H. Head of Chillicothe; and a sister, Miss Myrtle Head of Cleveland.

Funeral services will be held in the residence at 2 p. m. Saturday with the Rev. Sam Elsea officiating. Burial will be made in Forest cemetery by Mader Funeral Home.

Friends may call in the residence after 1 p. m. Friday.

Chinese Troops Are Welcomed On Formosa

KEELUNG, Formosa, May 18—Seven thousand singing, cheering Chinese troops, withdrawn from the Chusan Islands, were welcomed as heroes today when they arrived on Formosa Island to help defend the last piece of territory left to the Nationalists.

Madame Chiang Kai-Shek, wife of the Generalissimo, led a large crowd that greeted the soldiers at Formosa's Keelung harbor. She called on them to join courageously in the expected battle to hold what she termed China's "last bastion against Communism."

The generalissimo's son, Maj. Gen. Chiang Ching-Kuo, also was present on the muddy wharf to welcome the vanguard of an estimated 150,000 Nationalist troops evacuated from the Chusan Islands off China's east coast.

Bands played and pretty Chinese girls distributed bananas as the soldiers, in fullbattle gear, stepped ashore from the Nationalist troop transport SS Tien-Hsing.

Madame Chiang and other women handed lunches wrapped in wax-paper to the disembarking troops.

Jamming the decks of the Tien-Hsing as the transport steamed into Keelung Harbor, the soldiers sang what is currently the Nationalists' most popular battlesong, "Safeguard Formosa."

Absconding Tale Told To Police

CINCINNATI, May 18—A well-dressed 39-year-old man walked into Cincinnati police headquarters today and told a tale of absconding with $7,000 from a Waverly bank.

The man, who identified himself as Paul Smithson, said that he took the money from the Waverly State Bank yesterday morning. Smithson said he was a cashier at the bank and that after taking the money he went to Cincinnati.

Smithson told Patrolman Herman Raabe that he was pulled into an alley sometime during the night and slugged. He said that when he awakened, he had only one penny left and that in addition to the money, his $200 diamond ring was missing.

Smithson, whom Raabe described as intelligent, said that he has a wife and children in Waverly. Raabe quoted him as declaring:

"This will ruin my life and my family's life."

fore the public or should the funds be raised by solicitation?

Is there any opposition to the project?

Will racial problems interfere with the program?

Who will operate the pool?

STOUT TOLD the group during the Wednesday meeting that he has studied some phases of the financial problems confronting the committee.

"According to the figures I have studied," Stout said, "It will cost from between $25 and $50 per day to operate the pool.

"Some cities have been able to retire the the cost of the pool in only a few years of operation, although a municipal pool is not considered a money-making proposition."

One of the spokesmen attending the meeting stated:

"One thing should definitely be decided—will the pool be municipally owned or will it be privately owned?

"I personally think it should be a municipal pool located in Ted Lewis Park."

A MINOR objection was raised concerning the location of the pool in the park because of its proximity to the railroad.

Stout, after questioning the representatives from several Circleville service groups, found that most of the organizations will "go along" or are "in favor" of the project.

Considering the cost of the proposed pool, one of the group said:

"One of these days a kid will be killed while bumming a ride to his swimming pool. Any cost in preventing that would be worthwhile."

Barton Deming, who attended the session because he was "just plain curious," said:

"This thing seems to need an angel, someone with spark who will put it over.

"I think the organizations will join in, but you need someone with drive and a burning desire to push it."

The first meeting of the central investigating committee to be selected from Circleville organizations is tentatively set for 8 p. m. May 31 in the courthouse.

Columbus Woman Is Kidnapped

COLUMBUS, May 18 — A Columbus mother was kidnapped early today by two men who used their victim's car to drive her out of the city to a point where she was beaten.

Mrs. Priscilla Taylor, 28, was in fair condition in St. Francis hospital as a result of the ordeal. She suffered a fractured and dislocated shoulder when one of the assailants twisted her left arm.

Mrs. Taylor, an employe of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, was abducted shortly after she drove a girl friend home. The two men entered her car at the rear of the friend's home.

One man held a hand over Mrs. Taylor's mouth while the other drove south out of the city. She said the beating was administered after she screamed.

The men fled afoot after tossing the young mother into a ditch. Mrs. Taylor was able to drive home and call police.

lion dollars lost through excise tax cuts.

Several members have privately predicted the committee will fail to balance its bill by one-third to one-half billion dollars.

In that event, the group must reconsider its tax cuts and reduce or eliminate some of them or face the threat of a veto by President Truman. It is considered unlikely that Mr. Truman will sign a tax bill which increases the already large deficit.

Truman Aide Says Filibuster Won't End Fight

WASHINGTON, May 18—President Truman's No. 1 Senate lieutenant served notice on southern Democrats today that defeat of an attempt to silence their filibuster Friday will not end the civil rights fight.

Majority Leader Lucas (D) Ill., declared that if the bi-partisan gag effort fails, he will make another and possibly several more attempts continuing over a perod of weeks if necessary. He told a newsman:

"We're going to continue the fight. If we lose Friday, we'll try again. We'll take up other matters, but we'll always come back to the Fair Employment Bill."

The civil rights battle is being fought on a bill which would ban job discrimination because of race, religion or color.

Lucas based his decision to try again to gag the Southerners on the possibility that absentees may account for a defeat on Friday.

He said that repeated attempts to get cloture—the device by which debate is halted—may eventually result in a vote on a day when enough senators are present to put it through.

Meanwhile, leaders of both parties staged a last minute drive to line up the 64 needed votes for the balloting on Friday.

Faced by an apparent deficit of five to ten votes, they sought by every means to persuade absent senators to be present and doubtful senators to side with the bi-partisan attempt to silence the southerners and clear the way for passage of a law against job discrimination.

Big Earthquake Is Reported

PASADENA, Cal., May 18—The largest earthquake "reported anywhere since February" was recorded yesterday at the California Institute of Technology.

Seismologists said that the large 'quake, registered at 4:58:18 and 5:07:45 a. m. (PDT), was 4800 miles northwest or southwest from Pasadena and was 350 miles below the earth's surface.

It was listed as "magnitude 7," indicating an extremely severe shock.

16 Killed In Crash Of Bomber

HORTA, Azores, May 18—A U. S. Air Force official announced today that a B-29 Superfortress crashed at Lagens Airfield in the Azores, killing 11 crewmen and five military passengers.

The plane developed engine trouble on a flight from Bermuda to England.

The pilot attempted to land with one engine out but the plane veered off the runway and crashed into a "cemetery" of discarded planes on the edge of the field.

An information oficer said the craft nosed over, caught fire and burned. Bodies of the dead were strewn over a wide area.

The plane was attached to the 301st Bomb Wing, which is being transferred from Barksdale Air Base at Shreveport, La., to Great Britain for routine training service in connection with the Western European Defense Plan.

It left Barksdale Tuesday morning, refueled at Bermuda and then took off for England.

(At Shreveport, Public Information Officer Salvadore Pelle said that planes of the 301st Bomb Group are being shuttled from Barksdale to replace the 2nd Bomb Group, which is returning to its headquarters at Chatham Air Force Base, Savannah, Ga.

(Pelle added that Col. Thomas L. Steed, Barksdale Base Commander, is enroute by air to England but was not aboard the crashed bomber.)

Girl Killed From Blood Loss

ZANESVILLE, May 18 — Jennie Anderson, 23, of Zanesville, bled to death Wednesday an hour after she fell through a plate glass door.

Muskingam County Coroner S. S. Daw ruled that her death was accidental.

Dr. Daw's verdict caused police to release Bartender William Harp, who had been held on open charges. Harp told police he was trying to persuade the girl to go home when a scuffle ensued and she pulled away from him, falling through a glass door at the Jason Sales Co.

Budget Manager Hits Jackpot

AKRON, May 18—The Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company in Akron doesn't sponsor a radio quiz program, but T. G. While, budget sales manager, hit the $3,000 "jackpot" just the same.

While submitted a pair of ideas to improve company sales and the suggestion committee judged each to be worth $1,500, the maximum for a single award.

The $3,000 check was the highest payment made by the company for employe suggestions.

Man Escapes Injury Wednesday When Car Flips

A 21-year-old Southern Ohio man luckily escaped injury Wednesday when his auto overturned twice on the highway and landed in a ditch.

Deputy Walter Richards said Richard McGowan of Oak Hill Route 1 attempted to pass a tandem trailer truck on Route 23 just south of South Bloomfield at about 6:10 p. m. Wednesday.

The deputy said that as the Oak Hill man pulled out to pass the truck, the truck driver, Wayne Wells, 28, of Lucasville Route 4, also pulled out to pass a third vehicle.

McGowan's car was crowded from the road, the deputy said, and overturned twice before clipping off John Dowler's mailbox and landing in the left ditch.

The trucker, unaware of the accident, was stopped later in Circleville by Sheriff Charles Radcliff. The man said that he probably failed to see the McGowan car because of the tandem trailers.

"McGowan's car wasn't what you would call demolished," Richards described, "It was just banged up all over."

McGowan emerged from the wreckage without injury, Richards added.

Commissioners Postpone Ditch Cleaning Project

Pickaway County commissioners have postponed indefinitely any decision on the Yellowbud Creek ditch-cleaning project.

In a hearing Tuesday, commissioners were advised that because of legal technicalities no decision could be immediately reached.

The ditch project would have involved about three miles of two branches of the creek and would have been a major undertaking for engineers.

As a result, commissioners are standing by and courthouse attaches said one of the following could happen:

1. The issue could die for lack of action.

2. An entire new petition could be instigated, hearing held again and decision then reached.

3. Favorable action on the petition by commissioners could be answered by appeal to common pleas court. Same is true on unfavorable action if original petitioner wants to press the matter.

4. Either side may protest if and when individual cost estimates are leveled by commissioners.

5. The whole thing could be settled on a private level by the landowners involved.

Lehman Urges Support Of Social, Economic Program

our entire economy has not quite kept pace with either the growing productivity of our workers or with the addition to the nation's labor force of new workers who are coming out of the schools and into the labor market."

Rapping the Taft-Hartley Act, Lehman said the law "has meant a smaller share of the national income for working men and women and a lower level of purchasing power for the nation's chief consumers." He pledged his efforts to secure its repeal.

The first electric power station in the world was the Edison Electric Illuminating company in New York. It opened in 1882.

DEATHS and Funerals

MRS. BURR H. RADER

Mrs. Carey Head Rader, 80, of Circleville Route 1 died in her home at 5 a. m. Thursday after an illness of eight years.

A native of Pike County, she was a daughter of George and Catherine Head. She had lived in Pickaway County 60 years.

In 1893, she was married to the late Burr H. Rader.

Mrs. Rader is survived by a son, Glenn D. Rader of Ashville; four daughters, Mrs. Kenneth Shepler of the home, Mrs. Thomas Wright of Tucson, Ariz., Mrs. Lester Oliphant of Detroit and Mrs. Roy Breese of Scarsdale, N. Y.; two brothers, Ralph D. Head of Circleville and Charles H. Head of Chillicothe; and a sister, Miss Myrtle Head of Cleveland.

Funeral services will be held in the residence at 2 p. m. Saturday with the Rev. Sam Elsea officiating. Burial will be made in Forest cemetery by Mader Funeral Home.

Friends may call in the residence after 1 p. m. Friday.

Chinese Troops Are Welcomed On Formosa

KEELUNG, Formosa, May 18—Seven thousand singing, cheering Chinese troops, withdrawn from the Chusan Islands, were welcomed as heroes today when they arrived on Formosa Island to help defend the last piece of territory left to the Nationalists.

Madame Chiang Kai-Shek, wife of the Generalissimo, led a large crowd that greeted the soldiers at Formosa's Keelung harbor. She called on them to join courageously in the expected battle to hold what she termed China's "last bastion against Communism."

The generalissimo's son, Maj. Gen. Chiang Ching-Kuo, also was present on the muddy wharf to welcome the vanguard of an estimated 150,000 Nationalist troops evacuated from the Chusan Islands off China's east coast.

Bands played and pretty Chinese girls distributed bananas as the soldiers, in fullbattle gear, stepped ashore from the Nationalist troop transport SS Tien-Hsing.

Madame Chiang and other women handed lunches wrapped in wax-paper to the disembarking troops.

Jamming the decks of the Tien-Hsing as the transport steamed into Keelung Harbor, the soldiers sang what is currently the Nationalists' most popular battlesong, "Safeguard Formosa."

Absconding Tale Told To Police

CINCINNATI, May 18—A well-dressed 39-year-old man walked into Cincinnati police headquarters today and told a tale of absconding with $7,000 from a Waverly bank.

The man, who identified himself as Paul Smithson, said that he took the money from the Waverly State Bank yesterday morning. Smithson said he was a cashier at the bank and that after taking the money he went to Cincinnati.

Smithson told Patrolman Herman Raabe that he was pulled into an alley sometime during the night and slugged. He said that when he awakened, he had only one penny left and that in addition to the money, his $200 diamond ring was missing.

Smithson, whom Raabe described as intelligent, said that he has a wife and children in Waverly. Raabe quoted him as declaring:

"This will ruin my life and my family's life."

Clubs Asked To Set Up Pool Committee

fore the public or should the funds be raised by solicitation?

Is there any opposition to the project?

Will racial problems interfere with the program?

Who will operate the pool?

STOUT TOLD the group during the Wednesday meeting that he has studied some phases of the financial problems confronting the committee.

"According to the figures I have studied," Stout said, "It will cost from between $25 and $50 per day to operate the pool.

"Some cities have been able to retire the the cost of the pool in only a few years of operation, although a municipal pool is not considered a money-making proposition."

One of the spokesmen attending the meeting stated:

"One thing should definitely be decided—will the pool be municipally owned or will it be privately owned?

"I personally think it should be a municipal pool located in Ted Lewis Park."

A MINOR objection was raised concerning the location of the pool in the park because of its proximity to the railroad.

Stout, after questioning the representatives from several Circleville service groups, found that most of the organizations will "go along" or are "in favor" of the project.

Considering the cost of the proposed pool, one of the group said:

"One of these days a kid will be killed while bumming a ride to his swimming pool. Any cost in preventing that would be worthwhile."

Barton Deming, who attended the session because he was "just plain curious," said:

"This thing seems to need an angel, someone with spark who will put it over.

"I think the organizations will join in, but you need someone with drive and a burning desire to push it."

The first meeting of the central investigating committee to be selected from Circleville organizations is tentatively set for 8 p. m. May 31 in the courthouse.

Columbus Woman Is Kidnapped

COLUMBUS, May 18 — A Columbus mother was kidnapped early today by two men who used their victim's car to drive her out of the city to a point where she was beaten.

Mrs. Priscilla Taylor, 28, was in fair condition in St. Francis hospital as a result of the ordeal. She suffered a fractured and dislocated shoulder when one of the assailants twisted her left arm.

Mrs. Taylor, an employe of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, was abducted shortly after she drove a girl friend home. The two men entered her car at the rear of the friend's home.

One man held a hand over Mrs. Taylor's mouth while the other drove south out of the city. She said the beating was administered after she screamed.

The men fled afoot after tossing the young mother into a ditch. Mrs. Taylor was able to drive home and call police.

Revenue Sources Needed

lion dollars lost through excise tax cuts.

Several members have privately predicted the committee will fail to balance its bill by one-third to one-half billion dollars.

In that event, the group must reconsider its tax cuts and reduce or eliminate some of them or face the threat of a veto by President Truman. It is considered unlikely that Mr. Truman will sign a tax bill which increases the already large deficit.

Truman Aide Says Filibuster Won't End Fight

WASHINGTON, May 18—President Truman's No. 1 Senate lieutenant served notice on southern Democrats today that defeat of an attempt to silence their filibuster Friday will not end the civil rights fight.

Majority Leader Lucas (D) Ill., declared that if the bi-partisan gag effort fails, he will make another and possibly several more attempts continuing over a perod of weeks if necessary. He told a newsman:

"We're going to continue the fight. If we lose Friday, we'll try again. We'll take up other matters, but we'll always come back to the Fair Employment Bill."

The civil rights battle is being fought on a bill which would ban job discrimination because of race, religion or color.

Lucas based his decision to try again to gag the Southerners on the possibility that absentees may account for a defeat on Friday.

He said that repeated attempts to get cloture—the device by which debate is halted—may eventually result in a vote on a day when enough senators are present to put it through.

Meanwhile, leaders of both parties staged a last minute drive to line up the 64 needed votes for the balloting on Friday.

Faced by an apparent deficit of five to ten votes, they sought by every means to persuade absent senators to be present and doubtful senators to side with the bi-partisan attempt to silence the southerners and clear the way for passage of a law against job discrimination.

Big Earthquake Is Reported

PASADENA, Cal., May 18—The largest earthquake "reported anywhere since February" was recorded yesterday at the California Institute of Technology.

Seismologists said that the large 'quake, registered at 4:58:18 and 5:07:45 a. m. (PDT), was 4800 miles northwest or southwest from Pasadena and was 350 miles below the earth's surface.

It was listed as "magnitude 7," indicating an extremely severe shock.

16 Killed In Crash Of Bomber

HORTA, Azores, May 18—A U. S. Air Force official announced today that a B-29 Superfortress crashed at Lagens Airfield in the Azores, killing 11 crewmen and five military passengers.

The plane developed engine trouble on a flight from Bermuda to England.

The pilot attempted to land with one engine out but the plane veered off the runway and crashed into a "cemetery" of discarded planes on the edge of the field.

An information oficer said the craft nosed over, caught fire and burned. Bodies of the dead were strewn over a wide area.

The plane was attached to the 301st Bomb Wing, which is being transferred from Barksdale Air Base at Shreveport, La., to Great Britain for routine training service in connection with the Western European Defense Plan.

It left Barksdale Tuesday morning, refueled at Bermuda and then took off for England.

(At Shreveport, Public Information Officer Salvadore Pelle said that planes of the 301st Bomb Group are being shuttled from Barksdale to replace the 2nd Bomb Group, which is returning to its headquarters at Chatham Air Force Base, Savannah, Ga.

(Pelle added that Col. Thomas L. Steed, Barksdale Base Commander, is enroute by air to England but was not aboard the crashed bomber.)

Girl Killed From Blood Loss

ZANESVILLE, May 18 — Jennie Anderson, 23, of Zanesville, bled to death Wednesday an hour after she fell through a plate glass door.

Muskingam County Coroner S. S. Daw ruled that her death was accidental.

Dr. Daw's verdict caused police to release Bartender William Harp, who had been held on open charges. Harp told police he was trying to persuade the girl to go home when a scuffle ensued and she pulled away from him, falling through a glass door at the Jason Sales Co.

New Chemist Head Appointed

DAYTON, May 18—Joseph E. Cowden of Dayton is the new president of the Ohio State Pharmaceutical Association.

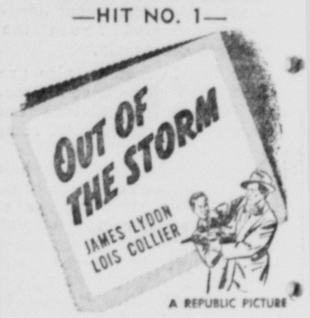

Cowden was named yesterday to succeed Cecil S. Stonebraker of Cleveland. Merrill J. Insley of Bellefontaine was elected first vice president and Charles H. Campbell of Columbus was re-elected treasurer.

SNORE BALL SUGGESTED

Americans Lack Sleep, Nation's Sandman Says

NEW YORK, May 18—The nation's No. 1 sandman reported today that more and more Americans are getting less and less sleep.

Norman Dine, a wide-awake guy whose unique business is solving every insomnia problem from a to z-z-z-z, peered at the crowds in his famous New York sleep shop and said:

"During the war, people slept pretty well because they were leading a well-directed life. Now, they don't know what to do about their fears and anxiety—so they count sheep instead."

The bed-time census taker estimates that over half a million Americans are lying awake most every night—and he ought to know.

For 17 years, his shop has been a Morpheus mecca where people who want to be caught napping bring their problems and others who have invented their own dozing formulas come to tip the sandman off.

HE HAS accumulated over 600 different types of sleepy-time gadgets—the only enterprise of its kind in the world.

All of them are based on a simple theory that Dine developed because as he puts it: "I was once an insomniac myself."

Dine, a former furniture store operator in Lynn, Mass., says he used to get up in the mornings feeling as if "I'd never been to bed."

He claims that no one ever stays awake all night. The test is how you feel.

When he could no longer tell the difference between mornings and the nights before, he decided "not to take it lying down." Instad, he headed for Columbia university to study the dynamics of slumber.

Those dynamics proved to be the dynamo that catapulted the sandman into a $500,000-a-year business. Dine explains:

* * *

"I DISCOVERED a secret that helped me so much I decided to try and help fellow sufferers."

His secret: "Most people think that they'll relax if they sleep. But the truth is that they'll sleep if they relax."

All Dine's gadgets are designed for relaxation in bed.

Because darkness is more restful than light, one of his favorites is a satin sleep shade that goes masquerade-fashion over tired eyes. Victims of claustrophobia can wear a special model with tiny peepholes.

To outwit noise, Dine offers ear stops, noise absorbing curtains, and his own special snore kit.

When hubby snores, all the little wife has to do is slip a rubber device into his mouth and he'll breathe through his nose. If that fails, a chin strap will force the mouth closed.

If the snores still persist, the Mrs. can resort to a snore ball—it whistles in the dark every time hubby turns on his back!

Edison Mural Given Spot In State House

COLUMBUS, May 18 — Howard Chandler Christy's mural of the life of Thomas A. Edison holds a place of honor in the State House Building in Columbus.

In a packed corridor this week, the mural was accepted by Governor Lausche from W. C. Beckjord, president of the Cincinnati Gas and Electric Company, the donators of the painting.

Mrs. Madeleine Edison Sloan, of Orange, N. J., daughter of the great Ohio inventor, attended the unveiling. Her brother, Charles Edison, was unable to attend.

Governor Lausche paid tribute to the electric light inventor:

"It was he who labored with the incandescent bulb when the world needed and wanted light—"

Artist Christy told the audience he had dreamed of doing such a painting for 25 years.

The painting shows three phases of Edison's life—a newspaper boy, a struggling inventor and an accomplished scientist.

House Committee May Fall Short

WASHINGTON, May 18 — The House ways and means committee may fall short of balancing its new revenue measure by one-third to one-half billion dollars.

Several members privately expressed fears that this will happen. They added that in that event the committee may have to eliminate some of the cuts already made in excise taxes.

The committee has been meeting behind closed doors since March 13 drafting a new revenue measure. It has tentatively cut excise taxes one billion 79 million dollars, while voting 245 to 295 million dollars in new revenue.

Rhodes To Press For New Dam

COLUMBUS, May 18—Columbus Mayor James Rhodes will press city council Monday to get financing under way for the proposed Hoover Dam on Big Walnut Creek.

Rhodes estimated the project will cost about $8,190,000.

UNITY IN EUROPE

A FIRST tentative step has been taken toward the kind of economic unity in Europe which Americans operating the Economic Co-operation Administration have been saying is essential to the recovery of the continent. France has proposed that the coal and steel industries of Western Europe be joined in one gigantic pool, and has announced willingness take the first step by pooling the Lorraine and Saar Basin output with that of Germany's Ruhr Valley. Pooling of economic effort and elimination of trade barriers and currency troubles have been major ECA goals for Europe, but so far progress has been slow. If this proposal were accepted and translated into action, other steps might come quickly.

The forming of such a huge cartel, for it would be that, even if embracing only one or two industries, would create a new problem: How would it be controlled? The economic power of the cartel would be greater than Europe has known. Only a political unit above the separate nations of the continent, and having real authority surpassing that of the individual governments, would be able to exert successful control over the cartel. Some measure of assured political control would be necessary; otherwise the nations could not be expected to commit their industries to it.

The economic strengthening of Europe is bound up with political strengthening, and the two cannot be separated. If the continent should become a real unit politically and economically it would have great power and would become one of the dominant forces of the world. Therefore it is necessary also to make certain that a unified Europe, if it should arise, would have aims in harmony with those of the rest of the world.

DOWN AND ALMOST OUT

NO CAUSE is more hopeless than that of a beaten political boss. If, out of his long experience, Frank Hague, ex-mayor and ex-boss of Jersey City, did not previously know this, he knows it now. Last year his regime, which began in 1917 and after his retirement continued under the leadership of his nephew, came to an end, when the Hague slate lost in the primary to the rival ticket led by John V. Kenny.

That might have been an accident. Last year Hague backed the Democratic candidate for governor, and Kenny backed the Republican, Again Kenny was successful. He has now captured the Congressional nominations in the two districts of which Jersey City is a part. All that remains, to complete his downfall, is to force Hague out of his membership in the Democratic National Committee.

In his heyday Hague was so autocratic that most ordinary folk will greet his utter downfall with glee. Now it is up to Kenny to give Jersey City a better administration than Hague did. That should not be hard.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

An Associated Press dispatch recorded that Professor S. W. Britton of the University of Virginia is concerned with a great problem, greater than the McCarthy-Tydings, Chavez-Budenz fights or even Harry Truman's whistle-stop trip across the country. It is the eternal problem of what to do with the unfortunate human race.

The learned professor would like our researchers to breed monkeys with human beings to see what would happen. To be scientific, he wants to use apes for his purpose and to breed them by artificial insemination. This, it would seem to me, is science in its most delirious stage. Don't we have troubles enough without that?

I must admit that the professor sees some of the troubles ahead. He fears that if the human race got hold of these half-and-half folks, they would use them as slaves. Apparently, he is certain that the ape-men would not use humans as slaves. The professor is opposed to slavery, but not to the debasement of human beings.

For instance, does he not realize that after a while, some politician would demand social security for the half-and-half folks and that liberals would want to be married to them to prove their total lack of prejudice? And suppose the half-men decided to discriminate against the aboriginal whole humans. Horrible thought, but not very original.

I had never heard of Dr. S. W. Britton before, but he must be a big-shot in the scientific world because he made a report to the National Academy of Sciences, which is a professional trade association where they exchange ideas, methods, etc. However, no one got terribly excited about it, particularly not the apes, who probably would go on a strike if forced to produce a half-human progeny. The apes may not like it at all. When the apes look at some of those who govern us, they undoubtedly recall Alexander Wollcott's remark about the most interesting place in Washington being its zoo.

Science for science's sake is very much like art for art's sake or politics for politic's sake—it can move from confusion to confusion without purpose. It is trial and error, hit or miss, without thought of consequences. Admittedly, the benefits of scientific research have been great and valuable, but if the ultimate of this activity is the destruction of the human race, either by a bomb that would throw the crust of the earth into its atmosphere or the denaturing of man into a lower order of ape by intermarriage and assimilation—then science needs restraint by morality. There is the basic problem of our age: the restoration of moral criteria.

And that essentially is why our scientists are beginning to be so frightened by their own products. They know that their greatest work today—the transmutation of matter—produces destruction. While, on the one hand, human life is being prolonged through scientific research, the same process is producing a method for the total annihilation of the human race, and for that matter, of everything.

WAKENED STUDENTS

THE title of most popular professor has been bestowed by evening session freshmen at City College in New York on an instructor who deals with sleepiness and inattention with such varied aids as cap pistols, feats of magic and live mice. This might raise some question as to the seriousness of the instructor's mind. But perhaps he is merely recognizing that the most learned of lectures has difficulty in penetrating a skull the openings of which are sealed by sleep

Convulsions in Children

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

MANY parents believe that convulsions in young children have no serious meaning and that these children are not more likely than others to have convulsions in later life.

It is true that convulsions, or spasms of the whole body, can be brought on in a small child by such things as high fever and digestive upsets, but, even so, it is always necessary to rule out the possibility of epilepsy.

Specialists in disorders of the nervous system are more and more of the opinion that convulsions during infancy are an early sign of this disease, and that children who suffer from such attacks during babyhood are likely to have a recurrence in later years.

Furthermore, the recurrence of the convulsions is likely to show itself before the child is 15 years old. The number having a recurrence before the age of 15 is much higher than the number of those having a recurrence after the age of 15. This would seem to indicate that the longer the child stays free from the convulsions, the less likely he is to have any attacks.

Since convulsions during the first two years of life may indicate that the child has a tendency to epilepsy, some treatment should be started. The longer the child remains free from attacks, the less likely he is to have them. Thus, any child having convulsions should be treated with the proper drugs for a prolonged period and possibly for a number of years.

Of course, the exact treatment to be used must be decided by a physician after he has made a careful study of the youngster. A number of preparations are available, such as phenobarbital and dilantin. Careful regulation of the dose of these drugs is needed, since an excessive amount may make the child sleepy or produce some other reaction. However, in the proper dosage, they not only will control the convulsions but will do it safely.

When a baby has a convulsive attack, the physician should be called at once so he can determine why it is occurring, and stop it. Then he can decide whether continued treatment is necessary to prevent further seizures.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

H. S.: My three and one-half-year-old son has scaly patches under the eyes and on the eyelids. At times they look red. What causes this?

Answer: The condition you describe may be a form of blepharitis marginalis, which is caused by an infection or poor eyesight. He should be examined by an eye specialist.

The Outsiders

SYNOPSIS

Eliza Forrestal relinquishes a European luxury-life with her frivolous mother, to take over management of her late grandfather's small antiquated paper mill in New Hampshire. As an "outsider" here she is regarded with suspicion. She has a powerful secret enemy in sly George Culbert, now running the mill and hated by his men. But Hespeth, her housekeeper, and Annie Wilson, an old family friend, prove loyal to her. Culbert dishonestly schemes to sell the mill to a big paper combine. Out on a wooded trail, Eliza reviews her life past and present, determines to fight on. It is here that Chris Cameron, the gentleman "hermit," first finds her. She dismisses his offers of help and friendship coldly. Annie Wilson had been jilted by Eliza's father. Long ago she had married a poor mill hand. Now her dreams spin about their son, Tod, whom she hopes will become a musician. To keep Tod in school, Annie takes a rag picker's job in the mill. All hands resent this humiliation and ill-feeling against the new owner, Eliza, mounts.

CHAPTER TWELVE

CULBERT walked with Eliza to the nearest shed and into it. "Here's Miss Forrestal!" he announced to the men nearest them.

Some of the men nodded, but most only looked over her. Eliza hesitated a moment, uncomfortably self-conscious, then drew nearer to the long, cumbersome machine that almost filled the shed.

A voice said behind her, "Don't go too close! Those deckel straps aren't so trustworthy!" But when she turned, pleased that one of the men had spoken to her, if no more than in warning, she found him intent on his particular job, his back to her.

She understood, now, why the manager had lifted his shoulders when she said she would ask questions of the men. They were like Hespeth.

Then, on the other side of the machine, she saw an old man regarding her with a somber intentness. But at least he was looking at her! She went around the machine to him. He might tell her if her grandfather ever had brought her here!

"Good morning. Will you tell me your name?"

"Tom Matthews." His voice was a heavy rumble.

Eliza had to raise hers over the racket of the turning cylinders. "You've been here a long time, haven't you?" He looked with his great stature and heavy white hair like some mighty patriarch!

"Fifty-odd years, one way or other."

"Then you'd know, perhaps—didn't my grandfather bring me here sometimes? Yesterday I thought I remembered..."

"Sometimes," rumbled from the old man's chest. That said, he turned and with a long hoe-shaped implement smoothed down a rough spot in the sticky sweetish-smelling pulp passing before them on the wire cloth.

"Can't any of you talk?" thought Eliza, impatiently.

But Tom Matthews said more, after a few minutes of silence. He turned and looked at Eliza again, his eyes under their jutting brows distinctly troubled. "This don't be the place for a woman!"

More than ever he was like a patriarch, by right of it speaking for the others here, these men who objected to their women working in the mill. But, thought Eliza, a little defiantly, they must get over their prejudices! She was here by right of her grandfather's will. She asked, her voice still pitched high, "Why not? Women are going into industry everywhere—think of all they did during the war." She remembered the woman in the manager's office. "Just an hour ago we hired a woman to work in the picking shed."

She saw the men who were within hearing jerk up their heads to look at her with a dark anger on their faces. She remembered what Chris Cameron had said up on the rock and she felt a giving-way sensation under her ribs. But she must say something; the patriarch was waiting, his eyes boring into hers. She said in a voice she tried to make sound like a boss, "There will probably be quite a few other changes in the mill, when we have time to plan them."

Tom Matthews' answer to that was to swing his broad back on her and move closer to the machine. The other men turned their attention back to their work.

She went back to her grandfather's office. The manager joined her there almost at once. He carried some papers in his hand.

Eliza's face betrayed her defeat. He laughed, patted her shoulder. "Didn't do so well?"

"I must have said the wrong thing! I told that oldest man in there—he'd told me it wasn't the place for me—that you—that I had hired a woman in the picking shed! And that there might be other changes when we had time to plan them. They looked at me as though they hated me..."

"Good, you did hand it to them!" George Culbert threw his head back in a long, loud laugh. His hand went to her shoulder again. "Now, let me tell you something. Just you don't bother your head with finding out what makes those machines tick. It's the figures you're interested in. I've brought the last few months' statements with me and we'll go over them now, if you like.

He drew a chair up to the desk, close to hers. His arm touched hers as he spread out the papers, but Eliza was not conscious of it. She was pulling herself together to concentrate on the figures.

"Not so good, you'll see, Miss Forrestal. Raw materials've gone sky-high, competition with the bigger and better equipped mills is a tough proposition to meet..."

Eliza's eyes were on the top sheet; she did not see the look of satisfaction on the manager's face.

It was the custom of the mill men to stop in at Pete Smead's every day at closing time. Pete sometimes had picked up news none of them had heard yet, and they in return, sometimes had news to tell Pete. They'd linger in the store a while, exchanging views on everything in general.

But this afternoon Dave Wilson went past the store. He knew what the talk'd be about—he'd had to hear enough of it at noontime.

About this girl, coming from outside, and first thing letting Culbert break the old rule that no women should work in the mill. Old Elisha's father had made the rule and Elisha'd been as firm about it as he. Sure, women were cheaper to hire, but that fact never had changed old Elisha's mind on it. What'd happen to these homes here, as nice, well-kept homes as you'd see in any interval upstate, if the women went into the mill? Elisha had known, the men all knew—they'd get to look like those grimy, lean-over places you saw 'round the bigger mills in the city. The kids'd run tough, too.

But Dave's own outrage was personal. It was Annie going into the picking shed! "I don't give a hoot if the Forrestal woman hangs around the machines," he'd said to the other men, "but—Annie, picking rags!" They smelled to high heaven sometimes; always there was dust and lint from them to breathe and sicken on. He knew; he'd started in rags.

Annie, going and asking Culbert for the job without a word to him—and he'd have said plenty! He'd have said it to her at noon hour except that he'd carried his lunch today and didn't go home. But he'd say it, soon as he got home.

He was earning enough for Annie's wants, wasn't he? At least she never complained... But, then, Annie never complained about anything; maybe she didn't have everything she wanted. "I wouldn't know!"

His step, to this point, belligerent in its stride, slowed and something went out of his anger as the old doubt came back to him. That he didn't know all of Annie.

They'd been married more than twenty years and it'd come to him, every now and then. He'd get it whenever Annie's face took on that far-off look, or she'd start to say something and then stop, as if it was for someone else to hear, not him. It was, as near as Dave could put it, as if the feeling part of Annie sometimes was somewhere else.

He knew, of course, all about the time young Forrestal was running after her, but that was over and done with years back, and in Dave's logic a thing done with was done with. Annie'd never given a sign that she thought back on it. She was sensible, a good wife to him; she was always happy-acting.

He'd let her have her way, most times. But this time... He was at the gate; he jerked up his heavy shoulders to rally his first anger. By God, she was going to listen to him this time! He hoped Tod wasn't home; he could say more with the kid not there. Though he'd say it, anyway!

FOLKS OF FAME—GUESS THE NAME

1—He was a noted English philosopher and economist, born in London, May 20, 1806, educated by his father, and taught the Greek alphabet when only three years old! His reading of the Greek classics and English history at an early age was astonishing. From May, 1820, to July, 1821, he was in France, and extracts from his diary show how methodically he studied chemistry, botany, advanced mathematical problems, made notes of the scenery, the people, and customs of the country and gaining a thorough acquaintance with the language. He was editor and writer for magazines. His Political Economy was published in 1848; the Dissertations and Discussions in two volumes in 1859. He died at Avignon, France, May 8, 1873. Can you identify him?

2—This actress was born in Venice, Dec. 6, 1904, and educated privately. She made her first stage appearance in Oxford, England, in Dandy Dick. Later she played in The Constant Nymph and as Desdemona in Othello and in other plays. She made her first appearance in New York in 1930 in A Farewell to Arms. Her first films were made in London. She made The Count of Monte Cristo, Great Flirtation, Mad Holliday, Thirteenth Chair and Corregidor in the United States. After an absence of five years from the stage, she returned to play The Cherry Orchard, Measure for Measure, The Importance of Being in Earnest and They Walk Alone. She wrote her autobiography, Charles Laughton and I, published in 1938. She died in 1948. What was her name?

House Dem Chiefs Lose Tax Legislation Control

Committee OK's Tax Cuts Beyond Proposed 'Limit'

WASHINGTON—House Democratic leaders have lost control of tax legislation.

The result is that the ways and means committee, in drafting a revenue bill, is operating entirely without direction and is voting excise cuts and other provisions with no set purpose except to comply with pressure from interested groups.

Congress, even during the war, operated independently of the executive in voting tax legislation. But not since the Hoover administration has there been a situation parallel to that now existing in the House committee. Eighteen years ago, the House voted a tax bill in utter confusion and left the Senate the task of making heads or tails of the jumble.

Washington

The ways and means committee is now voting excise tax cuts far in excess of the 655 million dollar a year "limit" proposed by President Truman. The President wanted excise cuts sufficient only to stimulate business, but some of the cuts bear no relation to that purpose.

Republican committee members who took the lead in demanding excise reductions now find the administration Democrats anxious to outdo them in giving the voter tax relief in an election year.

Tax legislation admittedly is headed for a presidential veto unless the Senate steps in to save the situation.

● TRIAL MYSTERY—One of the unanswered questions in the John Maragon perjury trial is why neither side made any attempt to call White House military aide Harry Vaughan to the stand.

Government prosecutors skimmed over the issue of whether the general actually had been interested in Maragon's intervention with federal agencies on behalf of private clients.

It may be assumed that in not summoning Vaughan, the prosecution was not sure whose side he might be on.

But there is no explanation why Defense Attorney Irvin Goldstein did not make an attempt to subpoena President Truman's aide. He complained loudly about the government's inaction on this point, but did nothing about it himself.

During the Senate investigation of five-percenters, Vaughan's name was introduced time and again. This was the most sensational aspect of the probe. But not so at Maragon's trial.

* * * *

● BARGAINING DILEMMA—Some top government officials believe compulsory arbitration may be the only solution for labor disputes involving public utilities. Such procedure is violently opposed by both labor and management but the government may have to turn to it in the not too distant future.

Oppose Any Transportation Disruption

Officialdom is strengthened in this conviction by threats of strikes on the railroads and in the telephone industry. Both have been narrowly averted.

Federal experts contend that the nation cannot permit disruption of transportation or communications services at any time or for any reason.

The existing machinery for staving off such walkouts has not operated effectively. That's why some officials have their eyes on compulsory arbitration as the only way out.

Congress may have to draft new legislation requiring that railroads, communications and other utilities shall submit all unresolved labor disputes to an impartial board.

"Hell's bells, son," roared the old farmer, "I don't farm half as good as I know how now."

UNITY IN EUROPE

A FIRST tentative step has been taken toward the kind of economic unity in Europe which Americans operating the Economic Co-operation Administration have been saying is essential to the recovery of the continent. France has proposed that the coal and steel industries of Western Europe be joined in one gigantic pool, and has announced willingness take the first step by pooling the Lorraine and Saar Basin output with that of Germany's Ruhr Valley. Pooling of economic effort and elimination of trade barriers and currency troubles have been major ECA goals for Europe, but so far progress has been slow. If this proposal were accepted and translated into action, other steps might come quickly.

The forming of such a huge cartel, for it would be that, even if embracing only one or two industries, would create a new problem: How would it be controlled? Only a political unit above the separate nations of the continent, and having real authority surpassing that of the individual governments, would be able to exert successful control over the cartel. Some measure of assured political control would be necessary; otherwise the nations could not be expected to commit their industries to it.

The economic strengthening of Europe is bound up with political strengthening, and the two cannot be separated. If the continent should become a real unit politically and economically it would have great power and would become one of the dominant forces of the world. Therefore it is necessary also to make certain that a unified Europe, if it should arise, would have aims in harmony with those of the rest of the world.

Convulsions in Children

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

MANY parents believe that convulsions in young children have no serious meaning and that these children are not more likely than others to have convulsions in later life.

It is true that convulsions, or spasms of the whole body, can be brought on in a small child by such things as high fever and digestive upsets, but, even so, it is always necessary to rule out the possibility of epilepsy.

Specialists in disorders of the nervous system are more and more of the opinion that convulsions during infancy are an early sign of this disease, and that children who suffer from such attacks during babyhood are likely to have a recurrence in later years.

Furthermore, the recurrence of the convulsions is likely to show itself before the child is 15 years old. The number having a recurrence before the age of 15 is much higher than the number of those having a recurrence after the age of 15. This would seem to indicate that the longer the child stays free from the convulsions, the less likely he is to have any attacks.

Since convulsions during the first two years of life may indicate that the child has a tendency to epilepsy, some treatment should be started. The longer the child remains free from attacks, the less likely he is to have them. Thus, any child having convulsions should be treated with the proper drugs for a prolonged period and possibly for a number of years.

Of course, the exact treatment to be used must be decided by a physician after he has made a careful study of the youngster. A number of preparations are available, such as phenobarbital and dilantin. Careful regulation of the dose of these drugs is needed, since an excessive amount may make the child sleepy or produce some other reaction. However, in the proper dosage, they not only will control the convulsions but will do it safely.

When a baby has a convulsive attack, the physician should be called at once so he can determine why it is occurring, and stop it. Then he can decide whether continued treatment is necessary to prevent further seizures.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

H. S.: My three and one-half-year-old son has scaly patches under the eyes and on the eyelids. At times they look red. What causes this?

Answer: The condition you describe may be a form of blepharitis marginalis, which is caused by an infection or poor eyesight. He should be examined by an eye specialist.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

For those who haven't figured out their summer vacation yet—that trip of Harry's was one of the finest of the all-expense tours and he was gone less than two weeks.

He met lots of new friends, visited many places of interest and slept under two budgets every night.

Vic Johnston covered the same route for the Republicans — his was a kind of a student tour and he came back qualified as an observer of the charm school methods.

Johnston learned many things on the trip to report to Republican leaders—his first report Reds "look out!"

His second report now in preparation will say "this boy has got nothing for us to be afraid of except voters."

It will take a little time to analyze fully the results of the President's trip but even before he started back from Grand Coulee Dam the Turkish Democrats whipped the Turkish Republicans for the first time since 1923.

The Outsiders

SYNOPSIS

Eliza Forrestal relinquishes a European luxury-life with her frivolous mother, to take over management of her late grandfather's small antiquated paper mill in New Hampshire. As an "outsider" here she is regarded with suspicion. She has a powerful secret enemy in sly George Culbert, now running the mill and hated by his men. But Hespeth, her housekeeper, and Annie Wilson, an old family friend, prove loyal to her. Culbert dishonestly schemes to sell the mill to a big paper combine. Out on a wooded trail, Eliza reviews her life past and present, determines to fight on. It is here that Chris Cameron, the gentleman "hermit," first finds her. She dismisses his offers of help and friendship coldly. Annie Wilson had been jilted by Eliza's father. Long ago she had married a poor mill hand. Now her dreams spin about their son, Tod, whom she hopes will become a musician. To keep Tod in school, Annie takes a rag picker's job in the mill. All hands resent this humiliation and ill-feeling against the new owner, Eliza, mounts.

CHAPTER TWELVE

CULBERT walked with Eliza to the nearest shed and into it. "Here's Miss Forrestal!" he announced to the men nearest them.

Some of the men nodded, but most only looked over her. Eliza hesitated a moment, uncomfortably self-conscious, then drew nearer to the long, cumbersome machine that almost filled the shed.

A voice said behind her, "Don't go too close! Those deckel straps aren't so trustworthy!" But when she turned, pleased that one of the men had spoken to her, if no more than in warning, she found him intent on his particular job, his back to her.

She understood, now, why the manager had lifted his shoulders when she said she would ask questions of the men. They were like Hespeth.

Then, on the other side of the machine, she saw an old man regarding her with a somber intentness. But at least he was looking at her! She went around the machine to him. He might tell her if her grandfather ever had brought her here!

"Good morning. Will you tell me your name?"

"Tom Matthews." His voice was a heavy rumble.

Eliza had to raise hers over the racket of the turning cylinders. "You've been here a long time, haven't you?" He looked with his great stature and heavy white hair like some mighty patriarch!

"Fifty-odd years, one way or other."

"Then you'd know, perhaps—didn't my grandfather bring me here sometimes? Yesterday I thought I remembered..."

"Sometimes," rumbled from the old man's chest. That said, he turned and with a long hoe-shaped implement smoothed down a rough spot in the sticky sweetish-smelling pulp passing before them on the wire cloth.

"Can't any of you talk?" thought Eliza, impatiently.

But Tom Matthews said more, after a few minutes of silence. He turned and looked at Eliza again, his eyes under their jutting brows distinctly troubled. "This don't be the place for a woman!"

More than ever he was like a patriarch, by right of it speaking for the others here, these men who objected to their women working in the mill. But, thought Eliza, a little defiantly, they must get over their prejudices! She was here by right of her grandfather's will. She asked, her voice still pitched high, "Why not? Women are going into industry everywhere—think of all they did during the war." She remembered the woman in the manager's office. "Just an hour ago we hired a woman to work in the picking shed."

She saw the men who were within hearing jerk up their heads to look at her with a dark anger on their faces. She remembered what Chris Cameron had said up on the rock and she felt a giving-way sensation under her ribs. But she must say something; the patriarch was waiting, his eyes boring into hers. She said in a voice she tried to make sound like a boss, "There will probably be quite a few other changes in the mill, when we have time to plan them."

Tom Matthews' answer to that was to swing his broad back on her and move closer to the machine. The other men turned their attention back to their work.

She went back to her grandfather's office. The manager joined her there almost at once. He carried some papers in his hand.

Eliza's face betrayed her defeat. He laughed, patted her shoulder. "Didn't do so well?"

"I must have said the wrong thing! I told that oldest man in there—he'd told me it wasn't the place for me—that you—that I had hired a woman in the picking shed! And that there might be other changes when we had time to plan them. They looked at me as though they hated me..."

"Good, you did hand it to them!" George Culbert threw his head back in a long, loud laugh. His hand went to her shoulder again. "Now, let me tell you something. Just you don't bother your head with finding out what makes those machines tick. It's the figures you're interested in. I've brought the last few months' statements with me and we'll go over them now, if you like.

He drew a chair up to the desk, close to hers. His arm touched hers as he spread out the papers, but Eliza was not conscious of it. She was pulling herself together to concentrate on the figures.

"Not so good, you'll see, Miss Forrestal. Raw materials've gone sky-high, competition with the bigger and better equipped mills is a tough proposition to meet..."

Eliza's eyes were on the top sheet; she did not see the look of satisfaction on the manager's face.

It was the custom of the mill men to stop in at Pete Smead's every day at closing time. Pete sometimes had picked up news none of them had heard yet, and they in return, sometimes had news to tell Pete. They'd linger in the store a while, exchanging views on everything in general.

But this afternoon Dave Wilson went past the store. He knew what the talk'd be about—he'd had to hear enough of it at noontime.

About this girl, coming from outside, and first thing letting Culbert break the old rule that no women should work in the mill. Old Elisha's father had made the rule and Elisha'd been as firm about it as he. Sure, women were cheaper to hire, but that fact never had changed old Elisha's mind on it. What'd happen to these homes here, as nice, well-kept homes as you'd see in any interval upstate, if the women went into the mill? Elisha had known, the men all knew—they'd get to look like those grimy, lean-over places you saw 'round the bigger mills in the city. The kids'd run tough, too.

But Dave's own outrage was personal. It was Annie going into the picking shed! "I don't give a hoot if the Forrestal woman hangs around the machines," he'd said to the other men, "but—Annie, picking rags!" They smelled to high heaven sometimes; always there was dust and lint from them to breathe and sicken on. He knew; he'd started in rags.

Annie, going and asking Culbert for the job without a word to him—and he'd have said plenty! He'd have said it to her at noon hour except that he'd carried his lunch today and didn't go home. But he'd say it, soon as he got home.

He was earning enough for Annie's wants, wasn't he? At least she never complained... But, then, Annie never complained about anything; maybe she didn't have everything she wanted. "I wouldn't know!"

His step, to this point, belligerent in its stride, slowed and something went out of his anger as the old doubt came back to him. That he didn't know all of Annie.

They'd been married more than twenty years and it'd come to him, every now and then. He'd get it whenever Annie's face took on that far-off look, or she'd start to say something and then stop, as if it was for someone else to hear, not him. It was, as near as Dave could put it, as if the feeling part of Annie sometimes was somewhere else.

He knew, of course, all about the time young Forrestal was running after her, but that was over and done with years back, and in Dave's logic a thing done with was done with. Annie'd never given a sign that she thought back on it. She was sensible, a good wife to him; she was always happy-acting.

He'd let her have her way, most times. But this time... He was at the gate; he jerked up his heavy shoulders to rally his first anger. By God, she was going to listen to him this time! He hoped Tod wasn't home; he could say more with the kid not there. Though he'd say it, anyway!

MARCH OF EVENTS

House Dem Chiefs Lose Tax Legislation Control | Committee OK's Tax Cuts Beyond Proposed 'Limit'

WASHINGTON—House Democratic leaders have lost control of tax legislation.

The result is that the ways and means committee, in drafting a revenue bill, is operating entirely without direction and is voting excise cuts and other provisions with no set purpose except to comply with pressure from interested groups.

Congress, even during the war, operated independently of the executive in voting tax legislation. But not since the Hoover administration has there been a situation parallel to that now existing in the House committee. Eighteen years ago, the House voted a tax bill in utter confusion and left the Senate the task of making heads or tails of the jumble.

Washington

The ways and means committee is now voting excise tax cuts far in excess of the 655 million dollar a year "limit" proposed by President Truman. The President wanted excise cuts sufficient only to stimulate business, but some of the cuts bear no relation to that purpose.

Republican committee members who took the lead in demanding excise reductions now find the administration Democrats anxious to outdo them in giving the voter tax relief in an election year.

Tax legislation admittedly is headed for a presidential veto unless the Senate steps in to save the situation.

● TRIAL MYSTERY—One of the unanswered questions in the John Maragon perjury trial is why neither side made any attempt to call White House military aide Harry Vaughan to the stand.

Government prosecutors skimmed over the issue of whether the general actually had been interested in Maragon's intervention with federal agencies on behalf of private clients.

It may be assumed that in not summoning Vaughan, the prosecution was not sure whose side he might be on.

But there is no explanation why Defense Attorney Irvin Goldstein did not make an attempt to subpoena President Truman's aide. He complained loudly about the government's inaction on this point, but did nothing about it himself.

During the Senate investigation of five-percenters, Vaughan's name was introduced time and again. This was the most sensational aspect of the probe. But not so at Maragon's trial.

● BARGAINING DILEMMA—Some top government officials believe compulsory arbitration may be the only solution for labor disputes involving public utilities. Such procedure is violently opposed by both labor and management but the government may have to turn to it in the not too distant future.

Officialdom is strengthened in this conviction by threats of strikes on the railroads and in the telephone industry. Both have been narrowly averted.

Federal experts contend that the nation cannot permit disruption of transportation or communications services at any time or for any reason.

Oppose Any Transportation Disruption

The existing machinery for staving off such walk-outs has not operated effectively. That's why some officials have their eyes on compulsory arbitration as the only way out.

Congress may have to draft new legislation requiring that railroads, communications and other utilities shall submit all unresolved labor disputes to an impartial board.

Jonathan Daniels tells of a crusty old Arkansas farmer who was approached one day by an eager young book salesman, peddling a set of books on scientific agriculture. The old farmer was a difficult prospect. "What do I want them things for?" he scowled. "If you had these books, sir," the salesman pointed out, "you could farm twice as good as you do now."

"Hell's bells, son," roared the old farmer, "I don't farm half as good as I know how now."

250 Guests Attend Silver Tea In Home Of Mrs. Hunsicker

Womens Clubs Sponsor Event

The Clark K. Hunsicker home on West Union street held a crowd of 250 guests, attending the Silver Tea sponsored by the Pickaway County Association of Women's Clubs, Wednesday night.

Groups drifting in from 7 to 10 p. m. heard a varied musical program arranged by the Music Division of Monday club under the direction of Mrs. James Moffitt.

The tea was one of the first projects sponsored by Pickaway County Association of Women's clubs to earn money for the purchase of a clubhouse. At present clubs belonging to the Association are Monday club, Business and Professional Women's Club, Junior Women's Club, Pickaway Plains Chapter of Daughters of American Revolution, Auxiliary to Pickaway County Medical Society and Pickaway Garden Club. Association members from these clubs formed the committees for the silver tea. Mrs. Clark K. Hunsicker served as general chairman for the project.

Pickaway Garden Club members were responsible for the arrangements of Spring flowers throughout the Hunsicker home. Dogwood, crabapple and wegelia were used as decorations.

Piano music by Mrs. Martin Cromley and Mrs. Theodore Huston was interspersed in the program of vocal music by Mrs. Arthur Wagar, Mrs. Dudley Carpenter, Mrs. Ralph Smith, Mrs. Clark K. Hunsicker Jr., Mrs. Ralph A. Schumm and Miss Eleanor Snyder.

Mrs. Wagar's songs were "Anniversary Waltz" by Franklin, "Love is All" by Tomlin, "The First Primrose" and "A Swan" by Grieg and "May Day Carol" by Taylor.

Mrs. Carpenter included in her repertoire "Songs My Mother Taught Me" by Dvorak, "For My Mother" by Mulotte, "The Second Minuet," Besley, "You Are Free," Jacobi, "The Cuckoo," Lehman and "Do You Remember" by Levitsky.

Mrs. Ralph Smith sang "Still Vie die Naght" by Bohm, "Blue Bird of Happiness" by Harmati, "Nur Ver die Lehnucht Kennt" by Tschaikowsky and "Summer Time" by Gershwin.

Mrs. Clark Hunsicker Jr. selected "In the Luxembourg Garden" by Manning, "Clorinda" by Morgan, "Romance" by Morgan, "Lover Come Back To Me" by Romberg, "The Sweet 'o the Year" by Salter and "A Kiss in the Dark" by Herbert.

Miss Eleanor Snyder included in her selections "The Kerry Dance by Molloy," "Buy My Strawberries" by Oliver, "My Johann" by Grieg, "Hahamera" from Carmen and "Over the Land is April" by Charles.

Mrs. McAlister accompanied all the vocalists except Mrs. Schumm who was accompanied by her husband's sister, Miss Marilyn Schumm.

Mrs. Schumm sang, "With a Song in My Heart" by Rogers, "Desert Song" by Romberg, "Villanelle" from the French, "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life" by Herbert and "Beautiful Lady" by Caryll.

Mrs. Huston played, "Clair de Lune" by Debussy, "Malaguena" by Lecuona and "Fantaisie Impromptu" by Chopin.

Mrs. Cromley included in her selections "Improvisation and Melody" by Brown, "Venetienne Barcarolle, No. 4" by Godard, "Trees" by Rasbach and "Alice Blue Gown" by Tierney.

The diningroom where the guests were served was lighted by numerous white tapers. The tea table was covered with a lace cloth. Lavendar and yellow tulips intermingled with lillies of the valley to form the center piece.

Mrs. Blanche Motschman and Miss Rose Good presided at the punch bowl, Mrs. W. Emerson Downing and Mrs. Lloyd Jonnes at the tea service.

Assisting in the diningroom were Miss Mary Heffner, Mrs. Guy Campbell, Mrs. Clark Will and Mrs. Lincoln S. Mader.

Receiving guests were Mrs. Charles H. May, Mrs. Harry Stevenson, Mrs. E. W. Hedges and Mrs. Sterling Poling.

Mrs. Robinson Is Hostess To Papyrus Club

Mrs. W. W. Robinson of Circleville Route 3 was hostess to Papyrus Club Tuesday evening in her home. Mrs. Milton Kellstadt, president, conducted the meeting which featured original work by the members.

Roll call was answered by "Something I Want to Tell."

Mrs. Robert Brehmer Jr. was first on the program. She read an original poem. Mrs. Robinson read a group of poems.

Mrs. E. O. Crites' original sketch, "Aunt Sue Meets the Census Taker" was read by Mrs. Kellstadt. Mrs. Crites was not able to be present.

Mrs. Kellstadt's historical serial, the first chapter of which she read, concluded the program.

During the business session the school committee reported on judging of the poetry contest in Pickaway County schools.

Mrs. Kellstadt named on a committee to plan for the summer picnic, Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. A. Hulse Hays and Mrs. W. Emerson Downing.

Others present were Mrs. Charles Gilmore, Mrs. R. E. Jones and Mrs. George Fickardt.

Mrs. Robinson's home was decorated with Spring flowers. In one arrangement were unusual yellow blossoms from a golden chain tree identified by Robert Brehmer as Viburnum Vossi and sent to the hostess by Mrs. Crites.

Candle Light Ceremonies Mark Club Services

Candle light ceremonies marked the formal installation services of both Junior and Senior Service Over Self clubs of Circleville high school, which followed their annual mother-daughter banquets.

The Junior SOS club banquet was held Friday evening in the Presbyterian church diningroom. The senior SOS Club banquet took place Tuesday evening in the diningroom of First Methodist church.

Candle light and pansies were featured as decorations at both banquets.

Junior club program included a piano solo, a playlet, a resume of the clubs activities for the year, presentation of awards and the formal installation service.

Connie Bell gave the opening number, a piano solo. The playlet had in its cast of characters, Patricia Wellington, Charlotte McConnell, Fern Wise, Patricia Nau and reader, Joan Kerr. Jacqueline Smith reviewed the club's work during the year and made awards.

Receiving awards were Charlotte McConnell, Ruth Hill and Ann Thomerson. The club adviser, Mrs. Truman Eberly received a special gift from the club.

Mrs. Eberly in turn presented a gift from the club to Jacqueline Smith, club president.

At the formal candle light installation service incoming officers lighted their candles from those of the outgoing officers.

Outgoing officers were Jacqueline Smith, president; Nancy Goodchild, vice-president, Barbara Pontius, recording secretary, Janet Grant, corresponding secretary; Ann Downing, treasurer, Ruth Hill, program chairman; Ann Thomerson, Service Chairman; Nancy Bower, publicity chairman.

New officers who lighted their candles were: Sally Eshelman, president; Theresa Hill, vice-president; Connie Bell, recording secretary; Jo Ann Kerr, corresponding secretary; treasurer Blanche Lutz; Shellie Shaub, program chairman; Charlotte Hoffman, service chairman; Carol Goodchild, publicity chairman.

At the senior banquet Tuesday night Mary Carolyn Weller, club president, gave the address of welcome to which her mother, Mrs. William Weller, made the response.

Awards were given to Betty Helwagen, Peggy Andrews, Marlene Barr, and Mary Carolyn Weller.

Miss Elma Rains, club adviser, received a gift from the club members.

A sextet made up of three sopranos, Jeannine Bell, Pat Valentine, Betty Helwagen, and three altos, Eleanor Lewis, Marjorie Thornton, Carol Leist presented several vocal numbers.

Patsy Johnson reviewed the club's activities during the past year. A formal initiation was held for three new members, Ann Downing, Nancy Goodchild and Ruth Hill.

In the candle service which climaxed the evening the outgoing officers from whom the new officers received their lights were:

Mary Carolyn Weller, president; Jeannine Bell, vice-president; Peggy Andrews, recording secretary; Delores Mavis, corresponding secretary; Norma Howard, treasurer; Marlene Steele, program chairman, Betty Helwagen, service chairman, Marlene Barr, publicity chairman.

New officers are: Frances Hoffman, president; Beverly Reid, vice-president; Nancy Held, recording secretary; Eleanor Lewis, corresponding secretary; Betty Helwagen, treasurer; Nancy Goodchild, program chairman; Ann Downing, service chairman, Ruth Hill, publicity chairman.

Child League Committees Set

Mrs. Marshall Winner, president of Child Culture League, named her standing committees at a short business meeting that followed the installation service Monday night.

Mrs. Winner has asked Mrs. Hart to be program chairman. Also serving on the program committee will be Mrs. Mary Ellen Sarringhaus, Mrs. Emmett Evans, Mrs. Robert Melvin.

The social committee is headed by Mrs. George Neff. Working with her will be Mrs. James Trimmer and Mrs. Leo Morgan.

Chairman of the philanthropic committee is Mrs. James Morrison. Also on the committee are Mrs. Robert Barnes and Mrs. Bernard Smith.

Mrs. Kenneth Wolford will have charge of the scrapbook. Mrs. Hildenbrand Martin, recording secretary will serve as press correspondent.

A picnic for children of members was planned for June 14 from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. in Ted Lewis Park.

250 Guests Attend Silver Tea In Home Of Mrs. Hunsicker

Womens Clubs Sponsor Event

The Clark K. Hunsicker home on West Union street held a crowd of 250 guests, attending the Silver Tea sponsored by the Pickaway County Association of Women's Clubs, Wednesday night.

Groups drifting in from 7 to 10 p. m. heard a varied musical program arranged by the Music Division of Monday club under the direction of Mrs. James Moffitt.

The tea was one of the first projects sponsored by Pickaway County Association of Women's clubs to earn money for the purchase of a clubhouse. At present clubs belonging to the Association are Monday club, Business and Professional Women's Club, Junior Women's Club, Pickaway Plains Chapter of Daughters of American Revolution, Auxiliary to Pickaway County Medical Society and Pickaway Garden Club. Association members from these clubs formed the committees for the silver tea. Mrs. Clark K. Hunsicker served as general chairman for the project.

Pickaway Garden Club members were responsible for the arrangements of Spring flowers throughout the Hunsicker home. Dogwood, crabapple and wegelia were used as decorations.

Piano music by Mrs. Martin Cromley and Mrs. Theodore Huston was interspersed in the program of vocal music by Mrs. Arthur Wagar, Mrs. Dudley Carpenter, Mrs. Ralph Smith, Mrs. Clark K. Hunsicker Jr., Mrs. Ralph A. Schumm and Miss Eleanor Snyder.

Mrs. Wagar's songs were "Anniversary Waltz" by Franklin, "Love is All" by Tomlin, "The First Primrose" and "A Swan" by Grieg and "May Day Carol" by Taylor.

Mrs. Carpenter included in her repertoire "Songs My Mother Taught Me" by Dvorak, "For My Mother" by Mulotte, "The Second Minuet," Besley, "You Are Free," Jacobi, "The Cuckoo," Lehman and "Do You Remember" by Levitsky.

Mrs. Ralph Smith sang "Still Vie die Naght" by Bohm, "Blue Bird of Happiness" by Harmati, "Nur Ver die Lehnucht Kennt" by Tschaikowsky and "Summer Time" by Gershwin.

Mrs. Clark Hunsicker Jr. selected "In the Luxembourg Garden" by Manning, "Clorinda" by Morgan, "Romance" by Morgan, "Lover Come Back To Me" by Romberg, "The Sweet 'o the Year" by Salter and "A Kiss in the Dark" by Herbert.

Miss Eleanor Snyder included in her selections "The Kerry Dance by Molloy," "Buy My Strawberries" by Oliver, "My Johann" by Grieg, "Hahamera" from Carmen and "Over the Land is April" by Charles.

Mrs. McAlister accompanied all the vocalists except Mrs. Schumm who was accompanied by her husband's sister, Miss Marilyn Schumm.

Mrs. Schumm sang, "With a Song in My Heart" by Rogers, "Desert Song" by Romberg, "Villanelle" from the French, "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life" by Herbert and "Beautiful Lady" by Caryll.

Mrs. Huston played, "Clair de Lune" by Debussy, "Malaguena" by Lecuona and "Fantaisie Impromptu" by Chopin.

Mrs. Cromley included in her selections "Improvisation and Melody" by Brown, "Venetienne Barcarolle, No. 4" by Godard, "Trees" by Rasbach and "Alice Blue Gown" by Tierney.

The diningroom where the guests were served was lighted by numerous white tapers. The tea table was covered with a lace cloth. Lavendar and yellow tulips intermingled with lillies of the valley to form the center piece.

Mrs. Blanche Motschman and Miss Rose Good presided at the punch bowl, Mrs. W. Emerson Downing and Mrs. Lloyd Jonnes at the tea service.

Assisting in the diningroom were Miss Mary Heffner, Mrs. Guy Campbell, Mrs. Clark Will and Mrs. Lincoln S. Mader.

Receiving guests were Mrs. Charles H. May, Mrs. Harry Stevenson, Mrs. E. W. Hedges and Mrs. Sterling Poling.

Mrs. Robinson Is Hostess To Papyrus Club

Mrs. W. W. Robinson of Circleville Route 3 was hostess to Papyrus Club Tuesday evening in her home. Mrs. Milton Kellstadt, president, conducted the meeting which featured original work by the members.

Roll call was answered by "Something I Want to Tell."

Mrs. Robert Brehmer Jr. was first on the program. She read an original poem. Mrs. Robinson read a group of poems.

Mrs. E. O. Crites' original sketch, "Aunt Sue Meets the Census Taker" was read by Mrs. Kellstadt. Mrs. Crites was not able to present.

Mrs. Kellstadt's historical serial, the first chapter of which she read, concluded the program.

During the business session the school committee reported on judging of the poetry contest in Pickaway County schools.

Mrs. Kellstadt named on a committee to plan for the summer picnic, Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. A. Hulse Hays and Mrs. W. Emerson Downing.

Others present were Mrs. Charles Gilmore, Mrs. R. E. Jones and Mrs. George Fickardt.

Mrs. Robinson's home was decorated with Spring flowers. In one arrangement were unusual yellow blossoms from a golden chain tree identified by Robert Brehmer as Viburnum Vossi and sent to the hostess by Mrs. Crites.

ATTENDANCE IS STRESSED

Kiwanis Club Prepares 'Go To Church Sunday'

Repeating a program it started last year, Circleville Kiwanis Club this week is making preparations for "Go To Church Sunday."

The event will be observed next Saturday and Sunday.

Harold Anderson, chairman of the club's church committee, said that this year the program will have the official title of "Church Loyalty Sunday."

On Saturday, lapel tags will be sold on the streets of Circleville. The tags will indicate that the wearer plans attending the church of his choice on following day.

The Kiwanis church committee has taken on one of most extensive programs in the group's history. So far, it has sponsored three programs designed for better understanding among religious factions. Speakers representing Hebrew, Roman Catholic and Protestant churches have been heard.

During the Summer months, the committee will be in charge of union services to be held in the shelter house of Ted Lewis Park each Sunday evening.

"Church Loyalty Sunday" is designed to stress the need for better church attendance. Anderson said:

"We urge each citizen to think of what you owe to the Church. Think what a factor it is to our way of life—then show your appreciation for the privilege and opportunity you have, living in a country where it is possible to worship God according to the dictates of your own conscience."

Break Seen To Watershed Opposition

DEFIANCE, May 18 — A possible break appeared in the offing today in the solid front of opposition put up by five railroads listed as foes of the Maumee Watershed Conservancy District.

The Nickel Plate Railroad, previously an objector, wants postponement of a hearing in the 15-county watershed case in order to make a detailed study of water supplies between Fort Wayne and Toledo.

Officials of the Nickel Plate indicated that a number of industries refused to locate along the line due to a lack of adequate water supplies.

Those familiar with the conservancy district battle suggested that the Nickel Plate might switch to support of the district. It was also reported that the Wabash Railroad was making a similar survey.

Officials of the Nickel Plate, said to be concerned over the water shortage, reportedly expressed belief that the conservancy district held a possible solution.

The request for a continuance was directed to the Defiance County court of appeals where seventh district judges sit in special assignment on the watershed case. A hearing in the matter is set for next Monday. It is this hearing the Nickel Plate seeks to postpone.

ATHLETES FOOT GERM HOW TO KILL IT. IN ONE HOUR

IF NOT PLEASED, your 40c back. Ask any druggist for this STRONG fungicide, T-4-L. Made with 90 percent alcohol, it PENETRATES. Reaches and kills MORE germs faster. Today at Circleville Rexall Drugs.

LOSES 35 LBS. WITH THIS HOME RECIPE

Mrs. Frank Snyder, Millfield, Ohio writes, "I have lost 35 lbs. since taking Rennel Concentrate and I am so pleased with the results that I have recommended it to many of my friends. Rennel has also relieved me of that stuffed up feeling and I no longer feel all tired out. I feel better in every way and look younger."

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Sokolsky's

Fortunately, no one has yet produced a hydrogen bomb, but on paper it seems possible, and both the United States and Soviet Russia are engaged in a race to manufacture it. What such a bomb could do to the human race is as yet only within the realm of the imagination, and whichever nation first succeeds in producing it will reduce all others to its will, no matter how savage.

Maps have been produced to show the range of destruction, but those maps only deal with the earth. What could be the effect of such an explosion on the universe? What would happen to climate if even an atom bomb, to say nothing of a hydrogen bomb, were exploded on the polar cap. Would we loose the ice of the Arctic. So that icebergs and glaciers moved southward, turning our world into a new Ice-Age? Would we be flooded by the immense downflow of water from the Arctic area, as the increase of the ice-flow met the warmer areas too soon?

There is a balance in nature which man challenges at his peril. This balance is being challenged every day by those who, denying Divine Intelligence, never question their own.

ATTENDANCE IS STRESSED

Kiwanis Club Prepares 'Go To Church Sunday'

Repeating a program it started last year, Circleville Kiwanis Club this week is making preparations for "Go To Church Sunday."

The event will be observed next Saturday and Sunday.

Harold Anderson, chairman of the club's church committee, said that this year the program will have the official title of "Church Loyalty Sunday."

On Saturday, lapel tags will be sold on the streets of Circleville. The tags will indicate that the wearer plans attending the church of his choice on following day.

The Kiwanis church committee has taken on one of most extensive programs in the group's history. So far, it has sponsored three programs designed for better understanding among religious factions. Speakers representing Hebrew, Roman Catholic and Protestant churches have been heard.

During the Summer months, the committee will be in charge of union services to be held in the shelter house of Ted Lewis Park each Sunday evening.

"Church Loyalty Sunday" is designed to stress the need for better church attendance. Anderson said:

"We urge each citizen to think of what you owe to the Church. Think what a factor it is to our way of life—then show your appreciation for the privilege and opportunity you have, living in a country where it is possible to worship God according to the dictates of your own conscience."

Break Seen To Watershed Opposition

DEFIANCE, May 18 — A possible break appeared in the offing today in the solid front of opposition put up by five railroads listed as foes of the Maumee Watershed Conservancy District.

The Nickel Plate Railroad, previously an objector, wants postponement of a hearing in the 15-county watershed case in order to make a detailed study of water supplies between Fort Wayne and Toledo.

Officials of the Nickel Plate indicated that a number of industries refused to locate along the line due to a lack of adequate water supplies.

Those familiar with the conservancy district battle suggested that the Nickel Plate might switch to support of the district. It was also reported that the Wabash Railroad was making a similar survey.

Officials of the Nickel Plate, said to be concerned over the water shortage, reportedly expressed belief that the conservancy district held a possible solution.

The request for a continuance was directed to the Defiance County court of appeals where seventh district judges sit in special assignment on the watershed case. A hearing in the matter is set for next Monday. It is this hearing the Nickel Plate seeks to postpone.

LOSES 35 LBS. WITH THIS HOME RECIPE

Mrs. Frank Snyder, Millfield, Ohio writes, "I have lost 35 lbs. since taking Rennel Concentrate and I am so pleased with the results that I have recommended it to many of my friends. Rennel has also relieved me of that stuffed up feeling and I no longer feel all tired out. I feel better in every way and look younger."

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Fortunately, no one has yet produced a hydrogen bomb, but on paper it seems possible, and both the United States and Soviet Russia are engaged in a race to manufacture it. What such a bomb could do to the human race is as yet only within the realm of the imagination, and whichever nation first succeeds in producing it will reduce all others to its will, no matter how savage.

Maps have been produced to show the range of destruction, but those maps only deal with the earth. What could be the effect of such an explosion on the universe? What would happen to climate if even an atom bomb, to say nothing of a hydrogen bomb, were exploded on the polar cap. Would we loose the ice of the Arctic. So that icebergs and glaciers moved southward, turning our world into a new Ice-Age? Would we be flooded by the immense downflow of water from the Arctic area, as the increase of the ice-flow met the warmer areas too soon?

There is a balance in nature which man challenges at his peril. This balance is being challenged every day by those who, denying Divine Intelligence, never question their own.

Higher Insurance Rates Set For Auto Drivers

COLUMBUS, May 18 — The Farm Bureau Mutual Automobile Insurance Company announced today that higher insurance rates will apply, effective next Monday, to Ohio automobile drivers under 25 who have not completed a state-approved driver training course satisfactorily.

The Farm Bureau Company termed the action, effective next Monday, "as a major step to help reduce the tragic death toll among Ohio youthful drivers."

Those qualifying will get regular adult liability insurance rates. Generally drivers under 25, because of their high accident frequency, are charged rates far above those for other age groups.

A statement by C. W. Leftwich, vice president and secretary of the company, said:

"We are making this offer to impress upon students and parents that there is only one man who sets automobile liability insurance rates—the man behind the wheel!

"THE ACCIDENT record of under-25 drivers throughout the country is appalling. Nearly 7,500 persons between the ages of 15 and 25 were killed in automobile accidents during 1948. This represented 22 per cent of all persons killed on our streets and highways for that year. In addition, 320,000 boys and girls in this age group were injured in traffic."

Leftwich said that at the present rate out of 100 youths in high school today, before they reach the age of 65, twelve will be killed or permanently injured in an automobile accident, and 63 will be injured or involved in such an accident. He said that only 25 per cent will go through life without such a mishap.

Leftwich said that the teenage traffic deaths and injuries "are the direct result of the immature and irresponsible attitudes of juvenile drivers."

He said that in terms of money drivers under 25 probably cost the nation "almost as much as the annual $600,000,000 cost of all fires."

Effective Monday, Leftwich said that new rates for youthful operators, or for families in which a driver under 25 operates the car, will go up. The property damage and bodily injury coverages, he said, will be about 26 per cent higher for farm youths and about 35 per cent higher for youths in urban communities, than for families without youthful drivers.

Name On Title Determines Owner

COLUMBUS, May 18 — The state supreme court held, in effect, today that the ownership of a motor vehicle is determined solely by the name on the certificate of title.

The court refused to admit to review the appeal of Paul S. Dkolmutch and his parents, who claimed that a motor vehicle purchased by Dkolmutch's late grandfather was actually his as a gift.

The estate of the grandfather, Logan Hipple, filed suit in the Stark County courts to determine ownership. It was admitted that Hipple purchased the car as a gift for his grandson, but kept the title in his own name because the grandson was not of age.

The Stark County courts held that the car belonged to the estate and was not a valid gift, since the title was not transferred.

Program Set To Publish Famous Persons' Works

WASHINGTON, May 18—President Truman has set in motion a program to collect, edit and publish the works and private papers of "great national figures" who helped shape American history.

The President announced the plan in a speech at the Library of Congress where he accepted the first of 52 projected volumes of the papers of Thomas Jefferson to be published by the Princeton University Press.

Mr. Truman declared, in the first address ever made at the library by a chief executive, that it is particularly important to reassert Jefferson's ideals today when the country faces a struggle for freedom essentially the same as that in Jefferson's days.

He said that the publication of Jefferson's private papers and writings should be followed by similar publication of the works of other Americans who have made major contributions to the development of U. S. Democracy.

The President said that he has requested officials of the national archives to investigate and report to him means of collecting the papers of other distinguished historical American figures.

He said that he is interested in the writings of industrialists and labor leaders, chemists and engineers, painters and lawyers and other great figures of the arts and sciences.

The President said the work would take many years and suggested that it be done, where possible, by private groups. He said:

"At a time when Democracy is meeting the greatest challenge in its history, we need to turn to the sources of our own Democratic faith for new inspiration and new strength.

"Today, when Democracy is facing the greatest challenge in its history, the spirit which Jefferson expressed in his battle against tyranny, and in his search for human liberty, stands out as a beacon of inspiration for free peoples throughout the world."

Lustron Accounts Not Included In Coming Sale

COLUMBUS, May 18 — The Lustron Corporation's $1,300,000 bank account and its accounts receivable will not be sold when the Columbus prefabricated housing plant is auctioned off June 6.

Federal Judge Mell G. Underwood decided the question late yesterday, over the pleas of Reconstruction Finance Corporation attorneys who argued that non-mortgaged assets should be included in the foreclosure sale.

Judge Underwood acted on the advice of attorneys for Receiver Clyde M. Foraker. They said the money in accounts at two Columbus banks would be necessary for any purchaser to operate and that their sale would be merely "trading dollars."

The receiver's attorneys pointed out that most of the $500,000 accounts receivable are against dealers who bought houses from Lustron. Many of the dealers have counter claims which require the plant operators to service the claimants.

The judge also pointed out that former Lustron President Carl G. Strandlund has only until Monday to show why he has not repaid $15,500,000 in personal loans from the RFC.

When the RFC started foreclosure proceedings early this year, it brought suit against both Lustron and its president. However, Strandlund was exempted from the action which resulted in Lustron's receivership March 6, and his case has been extended since then.

Parental Complex May Defeat Aid For Children

COLUMBUS, May 18—A woman author told the 74th annual meeting of the American Association on Mental Deficiency yesterday that some parents of retarded children have a "prima donna" complex which defeats all aid for the children.

Mrs. Edith M. Stern said one good strong group rather than a number of weak ones is necessary to help the children.

Mrs. Stern, author of the recently published book, "The Handicapped Child: A Guide For Parents," said:

"I have seen parents of retarded children split off into little groups of their own, fighting everything the group as a whole wanted."

She also said there is "a conscious hostility between parents and professional persons dealing with retarded children," with faults on both sides.

The meeting lasts through Saturday.

There are no "national" holidays in the United States. Each state has jurisdiction over holidays to be observed.

Housework Easy Without Nagging Backache

As we get older, stress and strain, overexertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Hospital Gets 'Biggest' Gift

COLUMBUS, May 18 — Children's hospital in Columbus got its "biggest" contribution — a total of $3.19 from seven children led by a little boy crippled long ago by infantile paralysis.

The donors of the collection made the money by selling paper flowers to their neighbors.

Little David Newburger, attacked by polio when he was only 18 months old, offered the idea of contributing the money. The children had first decided to make the flowers for their mothers but David suggested they sell them and give the money to the hospital.

Those who presented the funds to the hospital yesterday were Nancy Swisher, 10, and her brother, Tim, 5; Barbara Bachman, 9, and her brother, Rodger, 5; Barbara Bowsher, 10, and little David.

College Announces Building Program

OBERLIN, May 18 — Oberlin College announced today a one-million-dollar land development and home-building program to provide housing for the faculty and public.

Vincent S. Hart, college investment executive, said the plan calls for development of 100 lots on 54 acres of property within the southeast corporation limits of Oberlin.

Actual construction is expected to begin by July 1 on the first 60 lots.

Hart pointed out, however, that the institution is not financing the building of homes, but only development of lots, sewers and roads. The college will spend close to $70,000 to get the program underway.

He added that final approval by college trustees is expected in June and that no commitments could be made until then.

Horse racing on a regular basis in America was begun on Newmarket Course at Hempstead, Long Island, N. Y., in 1665.

Cheese Wheel Sent To Capital With Yodelers

WASHINGTON, May 18 — A 200-pound wheel of Swiss cheese from Tuscarawas County in Ohio rolled into Washington today, accompanied by a pair of genuine Swiss bell-ringers, and yodelers.

The bell-ringers are Hans and Alice Grossniklus of Wilmot and they'll be on hand to cheer Ohio's entry in one of the most unusual contests of the year—a tasting spree to determine which state makes the better cheese, Wisconsin or Ohio.

The Ohio entry was made by John Schneider of Ragersville.

The Wisconsin cheese also will be accompanied by a pair of bell-ringers.

Official efforts to tone down the contest to the rank of an "exhibition" met with no success as far as the Ohioans were concerned.

Grossniklaus said:

"This is no exhibition as far as we are concerned. We're going in there for the championship."

The "tasting"—to be on the safe side—is sponsored by Reps. Lawrence H. Smith, (R) Wis., and John McSweeney, (D) Ohio.

They took up the cudgels for their native products when a newspaper columnist remarked that Ohio cheese would beat Wisconsin's any day in the week.

Of all American women, only about 10 per cent fail to marry.

SYNDICATES GROWING

Chicago Expert Gives 'Remedy For Crime Wave

NEW YORK, May 18 — A Chicago crime expert prescribed revitalized public interest as the only remedy for the alliance of crime and politics which, he says, today threatens free government in the United States.

Virgil W. Peterson, operating director of the Chicago Crime Commission, said criminal syndicates in Chicago, New York, and Los Angeles are extending their operations to Florida, Nevada, New Jersey, Missouri, Colorado, Iowa, Ohio and Kentucky.

In a speech before the institute of practical politics in New York, he said:

"The tremendous power that has become vested in underworld organizations in numerous sections of the nation represents a menace to the proper functioning of democratic processes and this power is no longer limited within the confines of a municipality, a country or a state."

Peterson charged that the heirs of the infamous "Capone syndicate" have formed a "west side bloc" in the Illinois legislature.

He alleged that the "bloc" has succeeded in smashing attempts made by his commission to strengthen the hands of law enforcement officers.

He added:

"In district after district, vigorus campaigns were waged in the April 1950, primary to nominate candidates for the general assembly who are either friendly with, or obligated to, known associates of the Capone organization."

Monopoly Charge To Be Probed

WASHINGTON, May 18 — A House judiciary subcommittee will soon launch a full-scale investigation of alleged "monopolistic tendencies" in the newsprint industry.

Subcommittee Chairman Celler (D) N. Y. revealed today that "certain information that can't be made public now" has prompted House monopoly probers to schedule a thorough investigation.

Spurred by reports that prohibitive costs are resulting in the collapse of one newspaper per week, Celler said in an interview that the subcommittee seeks to determine three things:

1. Do newsprint monopolies exist?
2. Have newsprint companies violated anti-trust laws?
3. Must publishers buy newsprint under "undue restrictions?"

The New York congressman also disclosed that the probe will reach into Canada. He stated:

"We will investigate conditions on both sides of the border."

Security Bill Is Approved

WASHINGTON, May 18—The Senate Finance Committee has approved a social security expansion bill to add nearly ten million persons, including farm workers, to old age pension rolls.

The bill also would boost individual old age pensions an average of 90 percent and jump total payments from a current 700 million dollars to two billion dollars in the first year of operations.

Chairman George (D) Ga., said he would submit a detailed report on the bil to the senate Monday or Tuesday. He said that he hopes to call up the measure for Senate passage a week later but explained:

"It is hard to say when we can get the bill up owing to the Senate fight over the Fair Employment Practices Bill."

G-Men Ready For Gambling Racket Swoop

WASHINGTON, May 18—Scores of G-men will swoop down on any bigtime racketeer turned up by the senate crime committee.

Chairman Kefauver (D) Tenn., said that the crime hunters will concentrate on forming a "highly mobile, flexible" investigating staff that will rely mainly on local and federal police forces for basic information.

Asked if that meant that federal agents will be used by the committee, he replied:

"If we tried to obtain the use of even two such agents for regular assignment to us, it would take a minor revolution.

"But, if we are able to develop a lead that will promise a complete case with a concentration of force, we can have 50 men for a week or two.

"We have been promised the fullest cooperation by the Justice Department and the other federal investigative agencies. I think we will have that kind of cooperation."

Kefauver said that not more than seven to ten special investigators will be employed by the committee. He added:

"It would be foolish to try to compete with the police department of any city. So we want men who first of all know how to cooperate with the local authorities and know who to see to get complete information from their files.

Akron Legislators Approve Viaduct

AKRON, May 18—City council has approved expenditure of $478,554.75 as Akron's share of the new three million dollar viaduct which will be the first link in the city's expressway system.

Federal and state governments will pay the remainder of the cost of the 1,500-foot-long bridge which will span four railroads, East North Street, the Pennsylvania and Ohio Canal and the Little Cuyahoga River.

The expressway was voted as part of Akron's post war program.,

SYNDICATES GROWING

Chicago Expert Gives 'Remedy For Crime Wave

NEW YORK, May 18 — A Chicago crime expert prescribed revitalized public interest as the only remedy for the alliance of crime and politics which, he says, today threatens free government in the United States.

Virgil W. Peterson, operating director of the Chicago Crime Commission, said criminal syndicates in Chicago, New York, and Los Angeles are extending their operations to Florida, Nevada, New Jersey, Missouri, Colorado, Iowa, Ohio and Kentucky.

In a speech before the institute of practical politics in New York, he said:

"The tremendous power that has become vested in underworld organizations in numerous sections of the nation represents a menace to the proper functioning of democratic processes and this power is no longer limited within the confines of a municipality, a country or a state."

Peterson charged that the heirs of the infamous "Capone syndicate" have formed a "west side bloc" in the Illinois legislature.

He alleged that the "bloc" has succeeded in smashing attempts made by his commission to strengthen the hands of law enforcement officers.

He added:

"In district after district, vigorus campaigns were waged in the April 1950, primary to nominate candidates for the general assembly who are either friendly with, or obligated to, known associates of the Capone organization."

Monopoly Charge To Be Probed

WASHINGTON, May 18 — A House judiciary subcommittee will soon launch a full-scale investigation of alleged "monopolistic tendencies" in the newsprint industry.

Subcommittee Chairman Celler (D) N. Y. revealed today that "certain information that can't be made public now" has prompted House monopoly probers to schedule a thorough investigation.

Spurred by reports that prohibitive costs are resulting in the collapse of one newspaper per week, Celler said in an interview that the subcommittee seeks to determine three things:

1. Do newsprint monopolies exist?
2. Have newsprint companies violated anti-trust laws?
3. Must publishers buy newsprint under "undue restrictions?"

The New York congressman also disclosed that the probe will reach into Canada. He stated:

"We will investigate conditions on both sides of the border."

Security Bill Is Approved

WASHINGTON, May 18—The Senate Finance Committee has approved a social security expansion bill to add nearly ten million persons, including farm workers, to old age pension rolls.

The bill also would boost individual old age pensions an average of 90 percent and jump total payments from a current 700 million dollars to two billion dollars in the first year of operations.

Chairman George (D) Ga., said he would submit a detailed report on the bil to the senate Monday or Tuesday. He said that he hopes to call up the measure for Senate passage a week later but explained:

"It is hard to say when we can get the bill up owing to the Senate fight over the Fair Employment Practices Bill."

G-Men Ready For Gambling Racket Swoop

WASHINGTON, May 18—Scores of G-men will swoop down on any bigtime racketeer turned up by the senate crime committee.

Chairman Kefauver (D) Tenn., said that the crime hunters will concentrate on forming a "highly mobile, flexible" investigating staff that will rely mainly on local and federal police forces for basic information.

Asked if that meant that federal agents will be used by the committee, he replied:

"If we tried to obtain the use of even two such agents for regular assignment to us, it would take a minor revolution.

"But, if we are able to develop a lead that will promise a complete case with a concentration of force, we can have 50 men for a week or two.

"We have been promised the fullest cooperation by the Justice Department and the other federal investigative agencies. I think we will have that kind of cooperation."

Kefauver said that not more than seven to ten special investigators will be employed by the committee. He added:

"It would be foolish to try to compete with the police department of any city. So we want men who first of all know how to cooperate with the local authorities and know who to see to get complete information from their files.

Akron Legislators Approve Viaduct

AKRON, May 18—City council has approved expenditure of $478,554.75 as Akron's share of the new three million dollar viaduct which will be the first link in the city's expressway system.

Federal and state governments will pay the remainder of the cost of the 1,500-foot-long bridge which will span four railroads, East North Street, the Pennsylvania and Ohio Canal and the Little Cuyahoga River.

The expressway was voted as part of Akron's post war program.,

300 BUSHELS EXPECTED

Record Corn Yield Experiment Is Planned

URBANA, May 17 — It's plenty of corn but there may be a world's record involved to make it worth while.

The yield from a plot of ground at Urbana may reach the 300-bushels-per - acre mark this fall to top the world's record of 244.2 bushels.

The national Conservation Field Day and Plowing Matches committee intend to "baby" the crop along to display the world-breaking production at the Sept. 12 and 13 nationwide farm event.

E. P. Reed, associate professor of entomology at Ohio State university, described the experiment as "hardly practical" but said:

"I think we'll make 300 bushels."

The "pampering" started with the selection of a plot of two and a half acres of unplowed bottom land. Before the planting, a ton of fertilizer was plowed under. Then, with thick planting, 400 pounds of fertilizer was used.

With a "side dressing" of a half ton of 20 percent nitrogen, the crop is expected to yield about 26,000 stalks—compared with the usual 12,000—per acre.

While the corn is growing, an irrigation system will provide water for dry "spells" and appropriate sprays to kill insects and weeds will be administered.

If all goes well, the national plowing matches will see a new corn yield record.

Young Balloonist Plans Parachute Jumps In July

DEFIANCE, May 18—A 19-year-old Ohio youth believes he is the youngest and perhaps the only "hot-air" balloonist in the country.

Dale Partee of Evansport, in Defiance County, gave up carpentry and bought two balloons —one 80 feet and the other 65 feet—from an ex-balloonist turned bee-keeper.

Partee also purchased two parachutes along with the balloons. He plans his first balloon jump July 4 at Arcanum. From there he hopes to go on to county fairs and community events throughout the Midwest.

Young Partee caused quite a furrowing of brows when he applied to the Civil Aeronautics Administration in Toledo for a license. What he finally got was a license "valid only to pilot hot-air balloons in solo flight."

He already holds a private plane license and has made three jumps from planes in flight. But his chief interest will be balloon ascensions at $125 a jump and $75 for each day after.

Extradition Is Refused

COLUMBUS, May 18 — Gus Jackson will not be returned to Georgia to complete a ten year prison sentence for a $6 robbery.

John Keefe, executive secretary to Governor Lausche, said the governor has decided not to extradite Jackson. The governor was quoted as saying:

"Under the circumstances it does not seem the cause of justice would be advanced by returning him to prison."

Jackson was sentenced in July, 1943, and escaped from a road gang of the Wayne Prison branch at Jesup, Ga. When he was taken into custody in May, 1949, in Columbus, Georgia authorities asked for his return.

Couple Not Angry At State Now

BELLEFONTAINE, May 18—French and Ruth Wilgus are no longer angry at the State of Ohio.

They received a check for $14,900 yesterday in payment for damages they claimed they suffered through the relocation of U. S. Route 33 at Russels Point on Indian Lake. The couple owned a dance hall and restaurant there on land they leased from the state.

The pair had filed suit against State Highway Director T. J. Kauer, to compel payment of the damages.

However, Kauer said the check had been written some time ago. It was held up for examination by the state auditor's office.

Office Ballot May Spark Drys To New Drive

COLUMBUS, May 18 — Ohio's new office-type or "Massachusetts" ballot, to be used for the first time in the November election, may spark a new drive by the state's dry forces to secure passage of a county-wide option law.

S. P. McNaught, counsel for the Ohio Temperance League, said his group would consider at its May 25 board meeting the possibility of entering "independent" dry candidates in the legislative races.

The dry forces, which lost an attempt to carry the county-wide option proposal direct to the voters through an insufficiency of valid signatures, also include the prohibition party and the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

In all but 18 of the state's 88 counties, 300 or less valid signatures would qualify a "wet" candidate to run for the legislature as an independent.

The law requires only signatures equal to one per cent of the vote cast in the last election for governor. In one county—Vinton—less than 50 signatures would qualify a legislative candidate, since it cast only 4,493 votes for governor in 1948.

Twenty-two others cast less than 10,000 ballots; 36 counties cast between 10,000 and 20,000 votes, and 11 cast between 20,000 and 30,000. Nine counties cast between 30,000 and 50,000 votes, and only nine cast over 50,000.

Customers' Corner

Since the anti-trust lawyers filed their suit to put A&P out of business, three interesting things have happened.

1. Many thousands of our customers have written letters expressing their opposition to this suit.
2. Public opinion polls reveal that most Americans are on our side.
3. Our business has increased. More people are shopping at A&P than ever before.

All these things indicate that our customers have confidence in the policies of fair, honest dealing which have guided this company for the past 90 years.

We want to do everything we can to merit your continued support.

In all but 18 of the state's 88 counties, 300 or less valid signatures would qualify a "wet" candidate to run for the legislature as an independent.

The law requires only signatures equal to one per cent of the vote cast in the last election for governor. In one county—Vinton—less than 50 signatures would qualify a legislative candidate, since it cast only 4,493 votes for governor in 1948.

Twenty-two others cast less than 10,000 ballots; 36 counties cast between 10,000 and 20,000 votes, and 11 cast between 20,000 and 30,000. Nine counties cast between 30,000 and 50,000 votes, and only nine cast over 50,000.

Customers' Corner

Since the anti-trust lawyers filed their suit to put A&P out of business, three interesting things have happened.

1. Many thousands of our customers have written letters expressing their opposition to this suit.
2. Public opinion polls reveal that most Americans are on our side.
3. Our business has increased. More people are shopping at A&P than ever before.

All these things indicate that our customers have confidence in the policies of fair, honest dealing which have guided this company for the past 90 years.

We want to do everything we can to merit your continued support.

Please send your suggestions to: Customer Relations Department, A&P Food Stores, 420 Lexington Avenue, New York 17, N. Y.

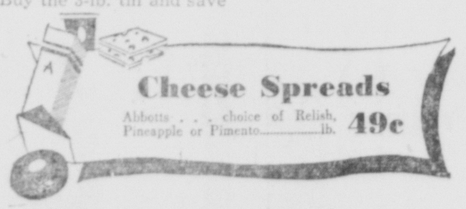

Come and See How A&P Helps You Save Money On Your Total Food Bill!

Whenever you shop at your A&P, you're sure to get grand values. Because A&P's policy is to keep all prices as low as possible. . .not just now and then, but all the time. Come see how this helps you.

WHETHER THE "MAGICAL" NAME of Roosevelt is still as potent a vote-getter as it once was may be tested in two states this year. Name of Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., is being pressed on Democratic party machinery for governor nomination in New York, and James Roosevelt is trying for both Democratic and Republican nominations for governor in California. James opposes Gov. Earl Warren. If FDR, Jr., wins convention nomination in New York, he will probably oppose Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, who is reported to need only a slight draft to be blown into a re-election race. (International)

DOZENS OF BIG BARGAINS IN EVERY DEPARTMENT!

Samples! Irregulars! Firsts!

HERE'S THE BUICK SPECIAL 4-door Sedan, de luxe finish. The same body type is available on SUPER series.

"YOU HARDLY KNOW THE ROAD IS THERE!"

You won't be the first to say that—not by a long shot.

One of the first things you notice, when you step from another make of car into Buick, is the wonderful difference in the Buick ride.

There are good technical reasons, if they interest you . . .

Soft coil springs all around, the gentlest type of spring man knows how to make.

A stout torque-tube, acting like the husky keel of a battleship to steady the whole carriage.

Low-pressure tires on wide, Safety-Ride rims, that stop heel-over and sway on curves.

Firm, sure, quick-acting shock absorbers, promptly snubbing the after-bounce of the bigger bumps.

The important thing is what these all add up to.

Freedom at last from jounce and jiggle. A level, floating, road-free passage over almost any kind of road, with even the worst of them tamed and gentled as never before.

Add Fireball power to all this—the roominess of wide, deep seats—the lightness of Buick controls and the liquid silkiness of Dynaflow Drive*—and you have a car just too good to miss.

Come try one, won't you? Your Buick dealer will be delighted to demonstrate without obligation—delighted to show you that if you can afford a new car, you probably can afford a Buick.

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SPECIAL and SUPER models.

ONLY BUICK HAS Dynaflow

AND WITH IT GOES: HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines. (New F-263 engine in SUPER models.) • NEW-PATTERN STYLING, with MULTI-GUARD forefront, taper-through fenders, "double bubble" taillights • WIDE-ANGLE VISIBILITY, close-up road view both forward and back • TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and garaging, short turning radius • EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles • SOFT BUICK RIDE, from all-coil springing, Safety-Ride rims, low-pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tube • WIDE ARRAY OF MODELS with Body by Fisher.

WHATEVER YOUR PRICE RANGE "Better buy Buick" YOUR KEY TO GREATER VALUE GM

WHETHER THE "MAGICAL" NAME of Roosevelt is still as potent a vote-getter as it once was may be tested in two states this year. Name of Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., is being pressed on Democratic party machinery for governor nomination in New York, and James Roosevelt is trying for both Democratic and Republican nominations for governor in California. James opposes Gov. Earl Warren. If FDR, Jr., wins convention nomination in New York, he will probably oppose Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, who is reported to need only a slight draft to be blown into a re-election race. (International)

DOZENS OF BIG BARGAINS IN EVERY DEPARTMENT!

Samples! Irregulars! Firsts!

HERE'S THE BUICK SPECIAL 4-door Sedan, de luxe finish. The same body type is available on SUPER series.

"YOU HARDLY KNOW THE ROAD IS THERE!"

You won't be the first to say that—not by a long shot.

One of the first things you notice, when you step from another make of car into Buick, is the wonderful difference in the Buick ride.

There are good technical reasons, if they interest you . . .

Soft coil springs all around, the gentlest type of spring man knows how to make.

A stout torque-tube, acting like the husky keel of a battleship to steady the whole carriage.

Low-pressure tires on wide, Safety-Ride rims, that stop heel-over and sway on curves.

Firm, sure, quick-acting shock absorbers, promptly snubbing the after-bounce of the bigger bumps.

The important thing is what these all add up to.

Freedom at last from jounce and jiggle. A level, floating, road-free passage over almost any kind of road, with even the worst of them tamed and gentled as never before.

Add Fireball power to all this—the roominess of wide, deep seats—the lightness of Buick controls and the liquid silkiness of Dynaflow Drive*—and you have a car just too good to miss.

Come try one, won't you? Your Buick dealer will be delighted to demonstrate without obligation—delighted to show you that if you can afford a new car, you probably can afford a Buick.

ONLY BUICK HAS Dynaflow
AND WITH IT GOES: HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines. (New F-263 engine in SUPER models.) • NEW-PATTERN STYLING, with MULTI-GUARD forefront, taper-through fenders, "double bubble" taillights • WIDE-ANGLE VISIBILITY, close-up road view both forward and back • TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and garaging, short turning radius • EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles • SOFT BUICK RIDE, from all-coil springing, Safety-Ride rims, low-pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tube • WIDE ARRAY OF MODELS with Body by Fisher.

TERMITES
Cause damage in excess of fifty million dollars annually for REPAIRS alone. These destructive pests work in secret and may be destroying your property NOW. Have it inspected by an expert and be sure. There is no charge for the inspection, and if your property is not infested they will tell you so. If termites are present you will be SHOWN and a fair price quoted for a treatment which is guaranteed for TEN YEARS.
Many irresponsible amateurs—self-styled "exterminators" and "part time" entomologists offer fantastic "guarantees" and bargain prices, but you owe it to yourself to be SURE you are securing the services of a thoroughly reliable and FINANCIALLY RESPONSIBLE company whose guarantee really has a meaning.
An effective termite treatment must not only eliminate the termites now present in the structure, but also prevent the countless thousands of others, who live in the GROUND outside the house, from returning.
The almost unbelievable cunning of the termite makes the successful treatment of your property a job for those who have the proper equipment and the KNOW HOW. Further, because of the termites tenacity and persistence it is sometimes impossible to completely exterminate them with ONE treatment. Therefore it is vital that the company doing the job be AVAILABLE later to return, if necessary. Unless you are SURE of this fact you may find yourself with a "Guarantee" but no one STILL IN BUSINESS to MAKE GOOD.
Always remember—a guarantee is only as good as the man who gives it.
We are local representatives of a reputable and FINANCIALLY RESPONSIBLE company who are ACCREDITED MEMBERS OF THE OHIO PEST CONTROL ASSOCIATION.

Night Softball Scheduled Friday In Park Here

Circleville's first night softball game is scheduled to be held at 8 p. m. Friday in Ted Lewis Park.

The Friday match will be played between the Circleville Top Hatters and the Mundean Manufacturers of Columbus.

Paul "Snow" Seymour, manager of the Top Hat aggregation, said the Friday tilt will be a prep match prior to its entry into a six-team South Central Ohio League next week.

The manager said the locals will play in the SCO intercity loop Tuesdays and Fridays of each week. The Tuesday games will be played away and the Friday matches will be played here.

Other teams entered in the league are Lancaster RBM, Bremen, Lancaster Glassers, Newark Oilers and Newark Electrics.

Seymour said the intercity loop will be played in two rounds, followed by a championship playoff.

Patchen Axworthy Smashes Record

ARCADIA, Cal., May 18 — Maynard Shetler's Patchen Axworthy smashed a track record and won the Bear State pace cup for the third time yesterday at Arcadia.

The 9-year-old bay gelding from Ferndale, Wash., driven by Jim Dennis, went the mile and one-eighth in 2:16 3-5, dusting off Dr. Stanton's mark of 2:17 2-5, set in 1948.

Patchen Axworthy hung on in a terrific stretch drive to beat out Gray Star, driven by Joe O'Brien, by a half-length. Ebonita, handled by Bi Shively, was third by a head. The victory was worth $2,250, to the winner.

Today's eighth race will provide a good line on the $10,000 Western Pace when K. O. Owen's Irish Hal takes on a swift field of 3-year-olds, including Charles Coburn's Rush Hour, Maud Tass, Cimarron Chief, Mighty Sun, Sheldon Pointer and Mighty Sassy. It will be a mile affair.

No Long Walk For Pitchers

CLEVELAND, May 18 — Even relief pitchers in the Cleveland Stadium are getting relief nowadays. They don't have to make that long walk from the bullpen to the mound anymore.

Tribe General Manager Hank Greenberg started a drive to cut down wasted time and speed up ball games last night when he brought in a red jeep to transport the relief hurlers to the pitcher's box.

The jeep line made five trips, hauling help for the Philadelphia A's twice and the Indians three times.

But the game lasted two hours and 41 minutes.

School Track Meet Scheduled

Junior high school track meet, sponsored by Stooge Club of Circleville high school, will take place at 7:30 p. m. Thursday on Circleville high school track.

John Heiskell will act as trackmaster, while County School Superintendent George D. McDowell will present the awards.

Ribbons will be awarded to the first five place winners in each event. Junior high school youngsters from six schools—five county and Circleville—will compete. Coaches of the schools will act as officials.

Two More Sign Browns Contracts

CLEVELAND, May 18 — Two more signed contracts for 1950 have been received by the Cleveland Browns.

Coach and General Manager Paul Brown announced the signing of veteran end Mac Speedie and Rookie Tom Clavin, fullback from Villanova.

Winchester, model 70 bull gun, calibre 30-06, fired fewer than 60 times and in new factory condition. This gun is the model that holds the world's distance target records and among shooters is generally regarded as the world's finest. Bought new for $195—may be had for $100.

Also model 52 Winchester .22 calibre target rifle fired fewer than 100 times and in absolutely perfect condition. This is a special rifle picked for the owner by Jack Lacey Winchester's top gun man and test fired by him on two separate occasions and pronounced perfect. This rifle holds inside of ¾ of inch at 100 yards. Equipped with G. and H. front sight and Lyman extension micrometer rear. An outstanding bargain at $100. These guns may be seen after 6 p. m. at the home of TOM WILSON, South of Circleville. Please no phone calls.

TERMITES

Cause damage in excess of fifty million dollars annually for REPAIRS alone. These destructive pests work in secret and may be destroying your property NOW. Have it inspected by an expert and be sure. There is no charge for the inspection, and if your property is not infested they will tell you so. If termites are present you will be SHOWN and a fair price quoted for a treatment which is guaranteed for TEN YEARS.

Many irresponsible amateurs—self-styled "exterminators" and "part time" entomologists offer fantastic "guarantees" and bargain prices, but you owe it to yourself to be SURE you are securing the services of a thoroughly reliable and FINANCIALLY RESPONSIBLE company whose guarantee really has a meaning.

An effective termite treatment must not only eliminate the termites now present in the structure, but also prevent the countless thousands of others, who live in the GROUND outside the house, from returning.

The almost unbelievable cunning of the termite makes the successful treatment of your property a job for those who have the proper equipment and the KNOW HOW. Further, because of the termites tenacity and persistence it is sometimes impossible to completely exterminate them with ONE treatment. Therefore it is vital that the company doing the job be AVAILABLE later to return if necessary. Unless you are SURE of this fact you may find yourself with a "Guarantee" but no one STILL IN BUSINESS to MAKE GOOD.

Always remember—a guarantee is only as good as the man who gives it.

We are local representatives of a reputable and FINANCIALLY RESPONSIBLE company who are ACCREDITED MEMBERS OF THE OHIO PEST CONTROL ASSOCIATION.

Night Softball Scheduled Friday In Park Here

Circleville's first night softball game is scheduled to be held at 8 p. m. Friday in Ted Lewis Park.

The Friday match will be played between the Circleville Top Hatters and the Mundear Manufacturers of Columbus.

Paul "Snow" Seymour, manager of the Top Hat aggregation, said the Friday tilt will be a prep match prior to its entry into a six-team South Central Ohio League next week.

The manager said the locals will play in the SCO intercity loop Tuesdays and Fridays of each week. The Tuesday games will be played away and the Friday matches will be played here.

Other teams entered in the league are Lancaster RBM's, Bremen, Lancaster Glassers, Newark Oilers and Newark Electrics.

Seymour said the intercity loop will be played in two rounds, followed by a championship playoff.

Patchen Axworthy Smashes Record

ARCADIA, Cal., May 18 — Maynard Shetler's Patchen Axworthy smashed a track record and won the Bear State pace cup for the third time yesterday at Arcadia.

The 9-year-old bay gelding from Ferndale, Wash., driven by Jim Dennis, went the mile and one-eighth in 2:16 3-5, dusting off Dr. Stanton's mark of 2:17 2-5, set in 1948.

Patchen Axworthy hung on in a terrific stretch drive to beat out Gray Star, driven by Joe O'Brien, by a half-length. Ebonita, handled by Bi Shively, was third by a head. The victory was worth $2,250, to the winner.

Today's eighth race will provide a good line on the $10,000 Western Pace when K. Owen's Irish Hal takes on a swift field of 3-year-olds, including Charles Coburn's Rush Hour, Maud Tass, Cimarron Chief, Mighty Sun, Sheldon Pointer and Mighty Sassy. It will be a mile affair.

No Long Walk For Pitchers

CLEVELAND, May 18 — Even relief pitchers in the Cleveland Stadium are getting relief nowadays. They don't have to make that long walk from the bullpen to the mound anymore.

Tribe General Manager Hank Greenberg started a drive to cut down wasted time and speed up ball games last night when he brought in a red jeep to transport the relief hurlers to the pitcher's box.

The jeep line made five trips, hauling help for the Philadelphia A's twice and the Indians three times.

But the game lasted two hours and 41 minutes.

School Track Meet Scheduled

Junior high school track meet, sponsored by Stooge Club of Circleville high school, will take place at 7:30 p. m. Thursday on Circleville high school track.

John Heiskell will act as trackmaster, while County School Superintendent George D. McDowell will present the awards.

Ribbons will be awarded to the first five place winners in each event. Junior high school youngsters from six schools—five county and Circleville—will compete. Coaches of the schools will act as officials.

Two More Sign Browns Contracts

CLEVELAND, May 18 — Two more signed contracts for 1950 have been received by the Cleveland Browns.

Coach and General Manager Paul Brown announced the signing of veteran end Mac Speedie and Rookie Tom Clavin, fullback from Villanova.

RECORD MARKS SET

Walnut Boys, Ashville Girls Win Track Honors

Walnut Township boys and Ashville girls won top honors Wednesday during the 1950 All-County track meet in Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

A combination of a fast track and almost perfect weather resulted in the establishment of four new track records during the classic.

Jack Hardwick of Walnut turned in the top cinder performance of the day, shattering two existing track records and winning three first place ribbons.

Hardwick, coached by Walnut's Harry Lamb, set new track marks in the highjump and broadjump during the meet.

The lanky Walnut athlete cleared the bar at 6'1½" during the afternoon to set the new highjump record, while soaring 20'1" to establish a new broadjump mark.

Sharon Zwayer of Ashville was the top competitor in the girls' event, winning three first place ribbons and tying a track record in the 60-yard dash.

THE ASHVILLE lass, coached by Beraldine Conard, raced the 60-yard event in 7.6 seconds, tying the record for the event set in 1942 by Stewart of New Holland.

Other record-shattering athletes winning laurels for their schools in this year's All-County contest were Porter Martin Jr. of Walnut and Cooke Metzger of Williamsport.

Martin swept into a new record during the mile run, heading the pack with the winning record time of 4:45.4 minutes. The old record was held by Schooley of Saltcreek, who circled the oval in 4:48.1 minutes in 1949.

Metzger, coached by Howard Pond, set a blazing pace in the 440-yard dash to crash a record with the winning time of 52.5 seconds. The old record was 54.2 seconds, set in 1940 by Miller of Pickaway.

Metzger's pace in the 440 was so hot that the first three men in the heat won first, second and third in the final event, while the first and second winners of the second heat received fourth and fifth.

Walnut scored a total of 52½ points during the classic to take the county crown. Walnut scored half again as many points as its closest competitor.

Ashville girls also scored nearly half again as many points as its runnerup in the girls' division with a total of 35½ points.

The Walnut boys, by virtue of winning the boys' championship, also won the All-County meet title, since the classic is based only upon the score of the boys' contest.

Saltcreek, last year's All-County champ, was runnerup in this year's event with a total of 35 points, while Monroe trailed thrid with a total of 29½.

WALNUT GIRLS earned the runnerup spot in the girls' events by scoring a total of 24 points, while Williamsport lasses ranked third with 20½.

Both Walnut boys and Ashville girls received trophies for their championship work during the meet. Hardwick accepted the Walnut cup for his team while Miss Zwayer accepted the girls' championship cup for Ashville.

Trophies and individual awards were presented to the youngsters by George D. McDowell, county superintendent of schools.

McDowell also gave a personal commendation to John Heiskell, trackmaster for the meet, for his "excellent coordination of the meet which appears destined an annual event."

Heiskell had worked out an exacting time schedule for the annual classic prior to the runoff, but found that the events were moving so well that when the final race was run the meet time had been cut by more than half an hour.

Fairgrounds horsemen, candid bystanders with an eye open for any competition which calls for speed and grace, enjoyed the classic from the rails of the turns.

THE OLDTIME sulky racers reduced the classic to their own terms—"That filly on the rail looks good, but the one in the "two-hole" (next to leader) may surprise in the stretch."

The horsemen had a drag out and were working the track shortly after the last event was completed, planning to use the last waning hours of sun for working out on their sidewheelers after an idle afternoon.

Complete final standings of the seven participating schools in the meet, plus the complete record and times scored during each of the events, follows:

Six Teams Compose League

Circleville Night Softball League is scheduled to begin at 8 p. m. Monday in Ted Lewis Park.

League President Harry "Bo" Wellington said that this year's league is to consist of six teams, although the teams have not yet drawn for the opening night spot.

Drawings for the season opener will be held at 8 p. m. Friday in Hanley's restaurant. Entry fees are to be paid at the meeting.

Wellington said the six teams of this year's league will be Boyer's, Scioto Elks, Dunlaps, Moose, Circleville Oil and Washington Township.

The league is scheduled to be held three nights a week in the park, Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays. Makeup games will be played on Thursdays.

Biggest Bowling Foul Recorded

COLUMBUS, May 18—Things should really be hopping at the American Bowling Congress today in Columbus.

Scheduled for the alleys are two squads of regular teams featuring five quintets which boast 1000 averages at home.

The biggest foul in the 47 year history of the ABC tournament came last night during the second squad of teams. All 36 foul lights went on at once, and bells rang like mad.

It was caused by a momentary dimming of lights during an electrical storm. After their surprise over a multiple foul (sounds like basketball, doesn't it?) the bowlers all had a good chuckle and went right ahead with their kegling.

Gustine Released By St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, May 18—Infielder Frankie Gustine has been given an unconditional release by the St. Louis Browns.

The Browns released the thirty-year-old veteran yesterday, only five days before Gustine was to become a ten-year man in the majors.

FORMER end coach of the professional Cleveland Browns football team, Dick Gallagher has been named head football coach at Santa Clara University, Santa Clara, Calif. He has signed a three-year contract calling for salary of about $12,000 annually. (International)

Circleville Ranks Seventh In Relay Races

Circleville high school ranked seventh in a field of 10 entries Tuesday during the annual Arlington relays. The meet was its last of the season.

Lowell Thomas and Jim Starkey ranked in the money twice during the stiff Arlington competition.

Thomas came in third in the mile run during the meet while ranking fourth in the half mile run. Starkey took third place in the 440-yard dash and earned fifth place in the discus throw.

Circleville's mile relay team finished in second place during the contest. Members of the team were Ted Sims, Dwight Barnes, Starkey and Tom Phillips.

The half mile relay team also earned points during the match by finishing in fourth place. Members of the helf mile relay team were Sims, Barnes, Harold McClarren and John Phiefer.

Circleville's cindermen topped Grandview, Delaware and Urbana in the final tabulations.

Strange Fight To Be Arranged

NEW YORK, May 18—One of the strangest prize-fights in all history apparently is about to be arranged for presentation in New York, the mecca of boxing—and of strange didoes—in the near future.

Jake Lamotta and Rocky Graziano are about to sign up for a match that will find Lamotta's middleweight title on the block.

Let's start at the beginning. Graziano was under disbarment in New York for a long time for failing to report an attempted bribe. He was out of action almost as long elsewhere because of his war record.

Lamotta is a notorious runout specialist, who once was fined and suspended for an unsavory performance allegedly traceable to an unreported injury.

That gives you a rough idea of this forthcoming match between these two for the middleweight title, with only this to be added: they are bosom companions.

Ohio Cindermen Lose To Illinois

COLUMBUS, May 18—Illinois Thinclads buckled the Ohio State cindermen yesterday and shared honors in cracking two Ohio stadium cinder records.

The Illini took eight of the 14 events.

The final tally gave Illinois 72 5-6 points and the Bucks, 59 1-6.

Trailing by only one and two-thirds points when they entered the last two events, the Bucks got only a third place in the 220-yard low hurdles.

Lenny Truex, Buck sophomore, broke a 14-year-old record in the 880-yard. He took off one-tenth of a second from the 1:52:4 record set in 1936 by Chuck Beetham. Truex was the only double winner in the meet. He won the mile run.

Don Laz of Illinois made a 14-foot 3 5/8-inch leap to break the 1947 pole vault mark set by Tom Warne of Northwestern.

Rocky River Turns On Power

OBERLIN, May 18 — Rocky River's track team turned on the power last night to run away with an easy victory and its sixth Southwest Conference Title at Oberlin.

The Pirates rolled up 81-½ points by taking seven of 14 first and scoring in each event. River outscored the combined total of the next three opponents, Oberlin, Maherst and Wellington.

Roger Herrett took care of three Rocky River firsts and shared in a fourth.

RECORD MARKS SET

Walnut Boys, Ashville Girls Win Track Honors

Walnut Township boys and Ashville girls won top honors Wednesday during the 1950 All-County track meet in Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

Jack Hardwick of Walnut turned in the top cinder performance of the day, shattering two existing track records and winning three first place ribbons.

Hardwick, coached by Walnut's Harry Lamb, set new track marks in the highjump and broadjump during the meet.

The lanky Walnut athlete cleared the bar at 6'1½" during the afternoon to set the new highjump record, while soaring 20'1" to establish a new broadjump mark.

Sharon Zwayer of Ashville was the top competitor in the girls' event, winning three first place ribbons and tying a track record in the 60-yard dash.

THE ASHVILLE lass, coached by Beraldine Conard, raced the 60-yard event in 7.6 seconds, tying the record for the event set in 1942 by Stewart of New Holland.

Other record-shattering athletes winning laurels for their schools in this year's All-County contest were Porter Martin Jr. of Walnut and Cooke Metzger of Williamsport.

Martin swept into a new record during the mile run, heading the pack with the winning record time of 4:45.4 minutes. The old record was held by Schooley of Saltcreek, who circled the oval in 4:48.1 minutes in 1949.

Metzger, coached by Howard Pond, set a blazing pace in the 440-yard dash to crash a record with the winning time of 52.5 seconds. The old record was 54.2 seconds, set in 1940 by Miller of Pickaway.

Metzger's pace in the 440 was so hot that the first three men in the heat won first, second and third in the final event, while the first and second winners of the second heat received fourth and fifth.

Walnut scored a total of 52½ points during the classic to take the county crown. Walnut scored half again as many points as its closest competitor.

Ashville girls also scored nearly half again as many points as its runnerup in the girls' division with a total of 35½ points.

The Walnut boys, by virtue of winning the boys' championship, also won the All-County meet title, since the classic is based only upon the score of the boys' contest.

Saltcreek, last year's All-County champ, was runnerup in this year's event with a total of 35 points, while Monroe trailed thrid with a total of 29½.

WALNUT GIRLS earned the runnerup spot in the girls' events by scoring a total of 24 points, while Williamsport lasses ranked third with 20½.

Both Walnut boys and Ashville girls received trophies for their championship work during the meet. Hardwick accepted the Walnut cup for his team while Miss Zwayer accepted the girls' championship cup for Ashville.

Trophies and individual awards were presented to the youngsters by George D. McDowell, county superintendent of schools.

McDowell also gave a personal commendation to John Heiskell, trackmaster for the meet, for his "excellent coordination of the meet which appears destined an annual event."

Heiskell had worked out an exacting time schedule for the annual classic prior to the run-off, but found that the events were moving so well that when the final race was run the meet time had been cut by more than half an hour.

Fairgrounds horsemen, candid bystanders with an eye open for any competition which calls for speed and grace, enjoyed the classic from the rails of the turns.

THE OLDTIME sulky racers reduced the classic to their own terms—"That filly on the rail looks good, but the one in the "two-hole" (next to leader) may surprise in the stretch."

The horsemen had a drag out and were working the track shortly after the last event was completed, planning to use the last waning hours of sun for working out on their sidewheelers after an idle afternoon.

Rocky River Turns On Power

OBERLIN, May 18 — Rocky River's track team turned on the power last night to run away with an easy victory and its sixth Southwest Conference Title at Oberlin.

The Pirates rolled up 81-½ points by taking seven of 14 first and scoring in each event. River outscored the combined total of the next three opponents, Oberlin, Maherst and Wellington.

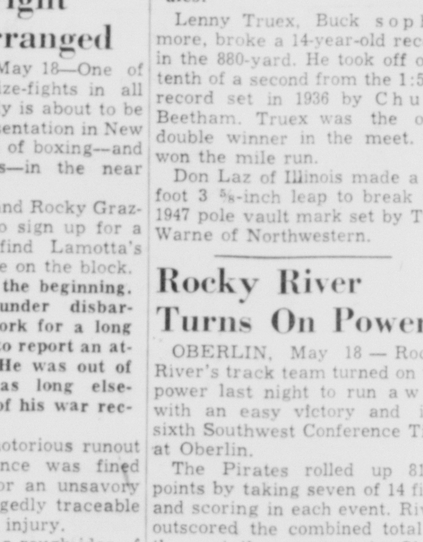

Roger Herrett took care of three Rocky River firsts and shared in a fourth.

Residential Building Boom Claimed In This District

Picture Is Called Optimistic

Beginning Traced To Last September

Circleville bankers and builders this week viewed with interest a business trends statement issued by the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland.

The bank stated frankly that a residential building boom of unprecedented proportions exists in this district. The reserve bank district covers all of Ohio and parts of Pennsylvania, Kentucky and West Virginia.

The Cleveland financial house declared that unlike a year ago, when residential builders were proceeding with caution, the present picture is very optimistic and demand is great.

Beginning of the boom is traced to last September when the value of contracts jumped more than 50 percent over August. Usually, the seasonal pattern remains about the same, the bank said.

In October, contracts were the largest in history. Actually they were three times the value of residential building in the entire years of either 1933 or 1934.

THE RATE OF acceleration in the first three months of the current year showed an advance of 102 percent over the same period in 1949.

Owner-occupied single family homes increased 116 percent during the first quarter of this year. Contractors, who put up the same type homes for release on the open market, reported volume increased 118 percent. Apartment house building was up 79 percent.

The report stressed, however, that older houses appear to be moving more slowly with some price weakening. The bank said that "this would be a logical development in view of the steadily increasing completion rate of new homes."

The bank said that the demand for housing in the less-than-$10,000 price bracket "appears to be insatiable." It cited the case of one Cleveland area builder who laid out a 400-unit single family project offering three-bedroom ranch-type homes.

HE ASKED only a $500 downpayment, had contracts for all 400 units before the project was completed. Sales were made only from a set of paper plans.

In general, the reserve bank statement said, new homes in the $10,000 to $14,000 bracket appear to be selling well.

The bank said that the recently-liberalized National Housing Act contains provisions to encourage construction of three and four-bedroom homes.

Persons building this type house may obtain insured mortgages of 95 percent of the first $8,500 of appraised value. Provision for federal loans to war veterans also was made by the new legislation.

The bank's report concluded with the statement that "it is nevertheless apparent that the present rate of increase cannot long continue. If nothing else, it will be limited by the availability of skilled labor and materials."

Investment Profit Rate Is Cut

WASHINGTON, May 18—The House Ways and Means Committee has cut the maximum rate on investment profits from 25 to 16 percent.

It also reduced from six months to three months the period in which property must be held in order to qualify for the lower capital gains tax treatment instead of the higher normal income tax.

The cut in the maximum rates was made an amendment by Rep. Reed (R) N. Y., while the reduction in the long-term capital gains was on a motion by Rep. Lynch (D) N. Y.

Both amendments revised the capital gains and losses provision of the revenue laws and affected profits obtained from selling real estate, speculations in property and commodities, etc.

Engineer Is Appointed

COLUMBUS, May 18—Robert F. Werner, 47-year-old street designing engineer, is Columbus Chief Engineer Paul W. Maetzel's successor.

Werner will succeed Maetzel on June 16 and Orris Bonney, chief sanitary engineer, will be promoted to chief engineer of a new division of sewage and drainage.

Volume Drops, Prices Rise In Stock Sale

Volume of sales dropped sharply as prices took a resulting increase Wednesday during the Pickaway Livestock Cooperative Association auction.

Sales totalled only 679 head in this week's auctions, a decrease of 212 head compared with the 891 head sold last week.

Meanwhile, prices for the more choice animals increased proportionately during this week's sale, with the largest increase in sale of good steers and heifers. Sales of the steers and heifers increased nearly $1 this week over last week's quotations.

Receipts in both cattle and hogs markets dropped 100 head each this week compared to last week's market report. Only 93 cattle were auctioned Wednesday, as compared to the 192 sold last week; and hogs sales decreased from 600 of last week to only 500 Wednesday. Calf receipts dropped 13 head, with 86 sold this week as compared to 99 placed on the block the week before.

Complete report of this week's market, prepared by the cooperative, follows:

New Taft Club Seen In Offing

CLEVELAND, May 18 — One of Ohio's most prominent Democrats is attempting to organize a "Democrats-for-Taft" group.

Alfred A. Benesch, a staunch Democrat for nearly 40 years, said yesterday in Cleveland that it was time for Democrats to drop the camouflage and admit publicly that Joseph T. Ferguson, Taft's opponent, is not in the same political class as "Mr. Republican."

Benesch, former state director of commerce under Gov. Martin L. Davey and Cleveland Area Rent Director for the OPA, said that he "could not stomach a person like Joseph T. Ferguson."

The elderly Democrat said that he did not want to organize the Democratic group to support Taft, but said that "I certainly would like to help in such an organization and so would some outstanding Democrats with whom I have discussed the matter."

Lightning Strikes Sheriff's Radio

COLUMBUS, May 18 — The Franklin County sheriff's radio system operated on auxiliary equipment late yesterday because a bolt of lightning struck the tower at the outskirts of Columbus.

Lightning struck a Worthington home, and another bolt blasted a seven-foot hole in a residence in Columbus. The Spring storm uprooted trees and blocked sidewalks and streets.

No injuries were reported.

The Shinkolobwe mine in the Belgian Congo has about 90 percent of the some 115 uranium-bearing minerals.

Writers Club To Lose Home

CLEVELAND, May 18 — A spokesman for Hotel Hollenden said today that the Artists and Writers Club, under fire from the State Liquor Board, will lose its home June 1.

The club's lease on the second-floor suite of the hotel expires at that date and the spokesman said it will not be renewed.
